

APPEAL TO DISTRICT ATTORNEY

AGREE TO WILSON'S FINAL DECISION

Democratic Majority of Ways and Means Committee Vote
on Sugar Schedule

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The democratic majority of the ways and means committee voted unanimously today to agree to President Wilson's final decision as to the sugar schedule and adjourned to Monday. It will agree either on free sugar or low duty to be eliminated entirely in three years. President Wilson is expected to make his decision today.

Effort to Defeat Wilson's Plan
WASHINGTON, April 5.—The new tariff bill underwent a careful examination today at the hands of members of the senate finance committee. While the anti-sugar forces from Louisiana and other cane and beet sugar states were making an effort to rally enough strength to defeat President Wilson's compromise plan, the senate leaders insisted they should be consulted in the preparation of the tariff revision and President Wilson has made efforts to bring the senate into the tariff revision. While the house tariff makers have exercised their constitutional right to prepare the tariff revision bill it would be made satisfactory to the president and senate, it is believed, before being introduced. Indications today were that President Wilson's compromise plan on the sugar tariff probably would be accepted finally in the senate. This proposal to reduce the present duty of 1.54 cents per pound on Cuban sugar to one cent a pound. Cuban sugar is allowed to enter at 20 per cent less duty than sugar from other countries. At the end of three years it is proposed to admit all sugar free of duty. The committee today also considered administrative features of the bill. The bill will eliminate the maximum and minimum tariff of the present law and authorize the president to negotiate reciprocity treaties with nations willing to make tariff concessions to the United States. Such treaties, however, must have the approval of both houses of congress, it is said.

YOUNG GIRL FOUND DEAD

Registered With Man at Woonsocket Hotel

WOONSOCKET, R. I., April 5.—A young woman who registered early this morning at the Woonsocket hotel with a man as John Cote and wife, Bideford, Me., was found dead in bed in her room at ten o'clock with gas flowing from a widely opened gas fixture. The man who registered as the woman's husband left the hotel at 3.30 this morning. Late this morning the body was identified as that of Clara Deshler, aged 15, of Danville, R. I., who has worked in mills and as a chambermaid. Her father is dead and her mother is in an insane hospital.

Card of Thanks
To our many kind friends and neighbors we take this means of expressing our sincere thanks for the many acts of kindness and words of condolence extended to us in the loss of our beloved husband and father, and also to those who sent floral offerings. To all we are deeply grateful and promise that their kindness shall never be forgotten.

Mrs. Dennis F. Beardon and family,
Miss Johanna Beardon.

AGAINST BROWN

Mayor O'Donnell Asks for Investigation
of Alderman on the Charge of Exceeding His Appropriation

Mayor O'Donnell has forwarded to District Attorney John J. Higgins a statement of what he believes to be a violation of the amended city charter on the part of Commissioner George H. Brown, in regard to creating liabilities against the city in excess of the appropriation made for the department of streets and highways in 1912, which liabilities have not yet been paid by the city. The mayor's communication to the district attorney reads as follows:

John J. Higgins, Esq.,
District Attorney,
Cambridge, Mass.

Dear Sir:
As Mayor of Lowell, and at the demand of many of the citizens of Lowell, I feel it my duty to invite your attention to what I believe to be a direct and knowing violation of section 32 of chap. 642 of the Acts of 1911, which reads as follows:

Sec. 32.—No officer of said city, except in the case of extreme emergency involving the health or safety of the people or their property, shall expend knowingly, in any fiscal year, any sum in excess of the appropriation therefor duly made in accordance with law, and any officer who shall violate this provision shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

There was appropriated by the municipal council of the city of Lowell in the year 1912, for the carrying on of the business of the department of streets and highways, the sum of $100,000. Commissioner George H. Brown was the duly appointed administrative head of that department pursuant to section 41 of chapter 645 of the Acts of 1911, and as such administrative head he had the management and control of all matters pertaining to that department, and having the intimate knowledge of all matters pertaining thereto.

At the end of the fiscal year it was disclosed that while the entire appropriation made for the street department had been expended there still remained outstanding liabilities against that department which had been contracted for by the said Commissioner Brown at different times during the year, but had not been paid.

A call to the creditors of the department to raise their unpaid bills resulted in the presentation of a large number of said bills, aggregating several thousands of dollars, many of which dated back to contracts made some months previous to the close of the year, and for which in many cases bills were rendered monthly.

The situation in the street department during 1912 caused the municipal council to remove the said Commissioner Brown from the control of said department to that of finance, and with the knowledge of his conduct while at the head of the street department, he was removed and knowing that he had created liabilities against the city far in excess of his appropriations in 1912, it would appear that he has started upon a similar policy in the department of which he is now the administrative head, a fact that must lead to the conclusion, that his actions of last year were not done inadvertently, through carelessness or inexperience, but knowingly, in direct violation of the statute.

In view of the fact, that the legislature in its wisdom has considered the overrunning of an appropriation, knowingly in the light of a criminal offense, and that it as Mayor of Lowell, have been repeatedly requested to take notice of these facts officially, I therefore respectfully address you as the county's prosecuting official to give this matter your attention.

Respectfully,
James E. O'Donnell,

the hearing was held was placed the city's entire police force.

Through an open window of the courtroom a moving picture machine, manned by strike sympathizers, poked its nose, recording for the screen every detail of the court proceedings. The Industrial Workers have sold the moving picture rights of the trial. They planned to have the final scene a wild demonstration of the throng outside the building to greet Haywood when the hearing should end. The strikers believed to a man that the sentence given Haywood would be reversed.

Methodist Conference
NEW BEDFORD, April 5.—Practically the entire session of the Methodist conference today here was taken up in the examination by Bishop Hamilton of candidates for admission to the ministry. In addition to this the matter of increasing tuition in Methodist schools was considered without action.

At this afternoon's session of the conference the matter of purchasing a home at Attleboro for Methodist ministers will be considered. This is one of the most important things to be acted upon by this conference.

Jail Crowded
PATERSON, N. J., April 5.—Hundreds of Paterson's striking silk mill workers flocked to the courtroom today where William D. Haywood, the Industrial Workers of the World organizer, was making a fight against the sentence of six months in jail imposed on him a week ago for disorderly conduct. Thousands gathered outside. Nearly 200 of Haywood's followers were left behind him in a jail that has seldom in the city's history been so crowded. There were strikers arrested last night and today for picketing. The streets outside the courtroom were dense with humanity. Around the building and within the chamber where

MISS FRANCES LEGGAT

The first of three performances of Gilbert and Sullivan's light opera, "The Pirates of Penzance" was given last night by the high school students in the high school hall before a very large and appreciative audience who gave frequent evidence of their delight by hearty applause. The scenic effects supplied through the courtesy of Keith's theatre were remarkably effective. Taking all into consideration, the production last evening was one of the most successful ever given by the local high school young men and women. Practically universal popularity accrues to Gilbert and Sullivan for their productions which have been played the world over by professional and amateur companies. One of their chief attractions is the sparkling wit, which is to some extent lost unless one has read the libretto of the opera and gained an idea of the story. It is very difficult for the majority to thoroughly understand such a piece by one attendance at a performance, both because of the subtlety of its satire in many instances and because of the fact that being an opera, the singing of the various parts confuses many and distracts them from the story. Consequently, a hint at the plot of "The Pirates of Penzance" at this point would not be amiss. It has in itself characteristics of a similar quality as those of the far famed "Pinafore." A

Lowell Citizens Contribute to the Fund for Sufferers in the Flooded District

Mayor O'Donnell and others whom he has succeeded in interesting in the proposition for a monster benefit in aid of the flood sufferers in Dayton, Ohio, and the vicinity, next Wednesday night, are working tooth and nail, so to speak, and are meeting with splendid success. The mayor's appeal to the public of Lowell has met with ready and generous response and several hundred dollars have already been contributed. The mayor said, today, that all of the theatrical managers have shown splendid spirit in volunteering their assistance and that the proposed benefit performance will give Lowell a splendid opportunity to swell the fund for the flood sufferers.

The florists have agreed to provide flowers and the mayor is looking for a bevy of charming young girls to sell nosegays at the theatre and in the street on the evening of the performance and he is also looking for young women to assist him in soliciting "ads" for the souvenir program.

The box seats at the theatre will be sold at auction and His Honor will act as auctioneer. The prices for the benefit will be 25, 50, 75 cents and $1.00. The flood sufferers are in urgent need of money at the present time, owing to the continued cold weather in the flood zone.

Mrs. Israel Thibault, Aged 74 Years, is Not Expected to Recover—She Received a Shock

The many friends of Mrs. Israel Thibault, aged 74, will be pained to learn that she is critically ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Arpin in Driscoll street, North Billerica. The aged woman, who is well known in this city, was seized with a shock a few days ago and her condition became alarming. Last night she received the last rites of the Catholic church, and the attending physicians entertain very little hope for her recovery. Her daughter, Mrs. Emily Dubau of Indian Orchard, Mass., arrived at her bedside this morning.

HOPES OF DEALERS REALIZED

Local Auto Agents Made a Great Many Sales—Purchasers Are Satisfied

Business continued to be brisk with the automobile dealers throughout the city and with the coming of the spring season their hopes of a big increase in the sales were realized. At present many of them who got in their orders for cars early are enjoying their possession.

Many dealers have been very pleased about the results of their efforts, an evidence of the growing popularity of the automobile. These two things of the merchants have replaced their teams with auto trucks for delivery orders to customers in and out of the city and business has increased accordingly.

In regard to the activity of the local dealers there are several new ones in the city, for the results of their work and the satisfaction of their customers speak for them.

George Russell Dana, Jr. attended a meeting of the New England Hudson automobile dealers held in Boston Thursday last at which time the Hudson company gave a dinner to their representatives, some 45 in number, at Hotel Essex. That the Hudson is now in use in the city with very gratifying results was in evidence at the time.

Mr. Dana's Plan

The writer in conversation with Geo. R. Dana relative to automobile sales was informed that Mr. Dana's plan is to render valuable service to his customers. Mr. Dana's plan is to render valuable service to his customers. Mr. Dana's plan is to render valuable service to his customers.

Mr. McCann's Big Business

In a comparatively short time, Mr. McCann, who entered into the automobile and bicycle business in Lowell, has built up a large business and added considerably to the popularity of the motorcycle in this vicinity. Mr. McCann's sales have not been limited to Lowell but have extended to the suburbs and surrounding towns. Recently he received a shipment of nearly a dozen new motorcycles, which is very close to a record, if not actually a record shipment of the kind for Lowell.

Reo Trucks Popular

When the Reo trucks increase in number on the streets of our city during the coming summer, already Geo. P. White, local agent, with place of business in Middlebury street, has been in on contracts with several local merchants, who wish to substitute the fast motor delivery cars for the horse and team. The Connecticut Spring Company, manufacturers of compressed springs, and for many years agents of the Reo truck, have negotiated for the delivery of a two-ton truck, which will be turned over within a few days. Fred Goodness, baker, has also purchased a Reo for city work and distant delivery. The chassis of this car is already in this city and the body, which will be built to dimensions furnished by the building company, will be constructed here.

NOT HARMED BY FLOOD

Indianapolis Speedway in Good Shape

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 5.—Despite all rumors to the contrary which have been freely circulated about the country, the Indianapolis Motor Speedway has not been touched by the flood which has left Indianapolis in its grasp during the past week, and the speedway management reports that not a dollar's worth of property connected with the big race track has been harmed. The speedway is situated on high ground, and the flood of Indianapolis and several miles removed from the flood zone. The roadway which leads to the speedway from the central part of Indianapolis is of solid concrete and today is in as perfect shape as it was before the heavy rains began falling. The floor will in no way injure the third annual 500-mile international sweepstakes race scheduled for May 30, and despite the tremendous excitement caused by the flood interest in the great speed contest has never been lost sight of.

Those who have planned to tour to Indianapolis for the race have been assured that they will find perfect road conditions awaiting them. The Indiana roads are all in excellent shape, and with a few days' sun will be in fine condition for touring. The bridges damaged by the flood will all be repaired long before race day, and there is nothing which should detract from the success which will undoubtedly attend the greatest automobile race ever held within the history of the sport.

During the midst of all the excitement of last week the speedway management received an interesting entry from Johnny Jenkins, the veteran driver, who will make a desperate effort to be victor this year at the wheel of a fast car. Jenkins has made formal entry of the car himself, and announces that his mount will be in shape for a tryout in a few days.

Johnny Jenkins, who entered the racing game by way of the prize ring, is noted for his nerve and skill as a driver. He has piloted many cars and is almost as well known in Europe as he is in America. His debut as a race driver having been made when he associated himself with Venus, an Italian woman.

When a Motorist Needs a Friend

It is after he has bought. It does not matter much what car you buy or how much you pay, sooner or later you will have need of the dealer.

If he is strong, intelligent and interested he will give you service.

If he has split his profits when he sold you your car, if he has no ideals and is not broad, in other words, is not successful nor a good business man, you will sooner or later regret your having bought of him.

The best car it is possible to build, fails if the dealer's support is not back of it. Inquire among motorists about our standing. Before you buy any car consider the dealer who sells it quite as much as you would the car itself.

See that he is well established and that he has a reputation for giving service. Be sure he is prosperous. Service is not possible if he cuts prices or if he makes unreasonable allowances for second-hand cars and thus ties up all his capital in worthless assets.

It is the part of good business to buy only of successful business men, whether it be motor cars or any other line of merchandise. The dealer must be a good business man or no matter what car he sells, you risk losing all the motor satisfaction you should have.

Buy a Six if You Are Paying More Than $2,000

The "54" HUDSON is all that any automobile at any price can be in performance, luxury, comfort and value. Backed by our own service you will find in it as near an approach to ideal motor satisfaction as is known.

The "54" HUDSON is the answer to a question that has long concerned all automobile builders: "What will Howard E. Coffin do when he builds a Six?"

When he built this car he had as his associates experts from 97 leading American and European factories—48 all told.

Thus all guess work was eliminated—all experiment made unnecessary. With so many viewpoints and so much experience, errors that others had made were eliminated—advancements that others found impossible were easily accomplished.

The "54" HUDSON has electric lights. It is electrically self-cranking. The famous Delco system, patented, is used. Every luxury is included, speedometer, clock, top, curtains, rain-vision windshield, demountable rims, 12-inch upholstery, etc. Equipped with a five-passenger Phaeton body at $2450, f.o.b. Detroit.

At $1875 you can obtain the HUDSON "37"—designed by the same engineers that built the "54"—and pointed to as the "Four-cylinder masterpiece."

SPRING'S CAR PROBLEM

Question of "Open or Closed" Answered

With the coming of the days when the motor-lover gets really busy—the spring days when the call of the open country, and the free highway is most insistent—arises the annual question of the automobile enthusiast: "Open or closed body for mine?"

When motor-cars were luxuries of the wealthy the question was easily answered. The closed car for the city and for winter use, an open body for touring and for summer—that's the obvious solution. But since motor cars have become every man's means of recreation and the family's health agency, the open or closed car problem is a puzzling and even serious one for a good many people.

The result is undoubtedly going to be a development and more general use of "two purpose" cars—such cars as are now represented in their most highly perfected form by the convertible phaeton brought out by the Stevens-Duryea people last year. The builders have found this to be a type of body of increasing popularity, and their original design was so carefully worked out that they are continuing it practically without change.

"For automobilists whose use of cars for fashionable social purposes, or for bad weather town-riding, is not constant enough to keep the convertible busy, the convertible meets every need," said George R. Dana, the Stevens-Duryea representative here, talking with a reporter yesterday.

"The attractiveness of the convertible when used as a touring car—especially in these spring days with their uncertain weather—is the greater for the ease with which the car can be changed from open to closed, or back again, out on the road, and with only a few minutes' work. It is so skillfully built, that when it is open it does not look like a convertible, but like a touring car, whether the top is up or down—except that all the time the convertible has a peculiar trim and compact appearance."

It is predicted that the opening of the spring motoring season this year will show a fast increasing number of convertibles. The type of car is not yet very well known, but owners' reports indicate that it has made good wherever it has been used. This season's Stevens-Duryea phaeton is on the C-Six chassis and has the general C-Six design, which has attracted so much attention at this year's shows as the standard for the motor-cars of the future.

Mr. Bachelder Made Many Sales

The famous Indian motorcycle, carried exclusively in this city by Mr. Bachelder in Post Office avenue, is proving to be a big favorite in the field of two wheeled motor vehicles, and the number of his sales has been many. Mr. Ted Pearson has been among the purchasers of this excellent machine, together with a well known mail carrier and several others. The ranks of the Indian riders in Lowell are considerably augmented this year.

Mr. Bachelder has also the Pope machine, another strong favorite with enthusiasts and he has disposed of many of them since the first of the year. His place is very much larger since the recent remodeling which it underwent and he has in his window an attractive and commanding display.

OBJECT TO LUNCH CART

Y. M. C. A. Appeals to License Commission

The board of directors of the Lowell Young Men's Christian association has petitioned the license commission, through the mayor, to refuse to renew the license for the maintenance of a lunch cart near the Association building. The general secretary of the association has addressed the following letter to his Honor:

Lowell, Mass., April 4, 1913.

Mayor James E. O'Donnell.

Dear Sir: At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Lowell Young Men's Christian association, there was unanimously voted to petition the license commission to revoke the license and to protest against any renewal of the same for the lunch cart located beside the Association building on Fulton street, near the corner of Elm street. The license referred to, we believe, is in the name of Frederick Steeves.

It is the desire and intention of the directors of the association to improve the space in the front of the new Association building facing on Merrimack street and also the space on Fulton street cooperating with the city in beautifying the part of the city in this vicinity.

We are assured that the directors, the trustees and the entire membership of the association have this same desire and we trust that the license commission will refuse to renew the license above referred to.

Very truly yours,
D. E. Yarnell, General Sec.

CITY EMPLOYEES IN U. S.

Majority Are Subject to Civil Service

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The majority of all appointments of city employees in the United States are subject to civil service examinations, according to figures announced today by the census bureau after a thorough canvass of cities having a population of over 30,000. At least this is true generally of all city employees other than school teachers, it was said.

The census bureau sent letters of inquiry as to examination of city employees to officials of the 193 cities and answers were received in 185. In answer to the inquiry "Is the passing of a civil service examination a condition precedent to the appointment of any class of employees?" 109 cities replied "yes" and 76 replied "no." Of the 109 cities answering "yes" 77 required the passing of an examination before appointment to any city position and 32 required it for one or more but not for all.

Men, women and children were rescued from smoke-choked tenements on the second and third floors but no lives were lost. A score of firemen were overcome by smoke and four of them are now under treatment.

The 22d annual party to Washington by way of Atlantic City, Philadelphia and New York, conducted by Principal Albert L. Bachelier of the Green school left Lowell yesterday for Boston, where the start will be made at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Bachelier is very sorry that a number of would-be tourists who made application to join the party at a late hour were turned down on account of lack of room, but he said to the writer that he was forced to do this as the number of passengers on the special train is limited.

PRICE OF COAL DROPS

50 Cents Reduction Will Took Effect Today

The price of coal in this city has taken a drop of 50 cents a ton, becoming effective today. This agreement was arrived at yesterday afternoon.

It was pointed out by the price of coal in Lowell at the present time is, everything considered, but 15 cents a ton more than in Boston, and this is how they figure it. The cost of transportation from Boston to Lowell is 35 cents a ton and coal selling for, say $8 a ton in Boston should bring $8.35 here. The local dealers claim that when coal was selling for $8.35 in Boston it was selling here for $2 a ton. That would mean that the price in Lowell, transportation considered, was selling for 33 cents a ton less than in Boston and along this same line of reasoning the local dealer shows you that Boston, with its 50 cent reduction, is selling only 15 cents a ton less than the present price of coal in Lowell. And Mr. Local dealer also calls your attention to the fact that delivery in Boston is sidewalk delivery, while in Lowell coal is delivered as cheap on the top floor as on the sidewalk. In Boston the dealers charge 25 cents a ton extra for coal that has to be carried up stairs or delivered to any point other than the sidewalk.

11 DECLARED INSANE

Committed by Judge Enright This Week

It is an unusual and a remarkable fact that in this city, since last Monday, there have been committed by Judge Thomas J. Enright, no less than eleven persons found to be insane. This is an extraordinarily large number to be disposed of as demented in so short a period. No particular cause for the apparent prevalence of this condition during the past week has been nor can be assigned, and the loss of mental equilibrium in these cases was due to a variety of causes. It may be that one or two may have fallen victims to the liquor habit, but in the case of others, circumstances were such as to reflect this theory for they are known not to be addicted to drink.

YOUNG WOMAN STARVING TO DEATH

Marie Louise Baribeault Has Not Eaten for 15 Days—Mental Weakness, Says Physician

Starving with plenty of food in the house, such is the case of Marie Louise Baribeault, aged 24 years, daughter of Mrs. Vital Lessard of 342 Broadway, who has not eaten a particle of food since Easter Sunday morning. According to the mother the young woman has been ill for the past three months, and up to Easter Sunday she had a good appetite. She partook of a hearty breakfast on that day, and since that time has refused absolutely to partake of anything in the line of food, and she is now living on cold water.

Three physicians have been called to treat the girl, but their efforts to have her eat have proved fruitless, for the young woman has not the least hunger and refuses to eat. The parents tried to force her to eat but with no avail. She is obstinate and will not partake of any food for anybody.

Miss Baribeault was employed with her mother at the Lowell hospital up to three months ago when she was forced to leave her work on account of illness, which was caused by a nervous breakdown. She remained at home and was given the best treatment and her condition seemed to improve. She went out occasionally and ate hearty meals. On Easter Sunday morning she partook of a good breakfast, and was apparently in a better condition than she had been since leaving her work. At noon however, she did not feel well and did not eat. Thinking it was a slight indisposition, the mother did not pay much attention to her daughter's refusal to eat, but in the evening she insisted that the young woman should eat, but the latter paid no attention to her mother's coaxings and retired without partaking of any food.

The young woman has been fasting ever since and she is now in a very weak condition. Dr. L. V. Rochette was first called and according to the mother, he diagnosed this case as one of paralysis. His efforts to make the girl eat were fruitless and Dr. Lavigne was called in. The latter said it was a case of nervousness, but he, too, failed to make the girl eat. Finally Dr. D. T. Chagnon visited her and in his opinion she is suffering from mental weakness. He prescribed brainy and eggs, but all attempts to have the sick girl swallow even a sip of the liquor were of no avail, and the young woman has now reached her fifteenth day without eating.

Yesterday morning arrangements were made to take her to the Lowell hospital, where it is believed she can be properly treated.

One of the physicians who called at the home, when seen by the writer stated yesterday that as far as he could see, the girl is obstinate. He said he believed if she were sent to some institution where they would force her to eat, she would have good chances for recovery, but on the other hand, if she is kept at home, it is a question of days probably before the end comes. Asked how the girl could control her hunger and be obstinate, the physician replied that after fasting for a few days, one has not the slightest hunger, and the girl if left alone would surely starve herself to death.

The girl's stepfather, Mr. Vital Lessard is also confined to his home with a severe attack of paralysis. Mrs. Lessard stated to the writer this morning that the case was reported to the pauper department at city hall a week ago last Tuesday, as she wanted it possible to have the girl removed to the state infirmary in Tewksbury, but all that was done as far as she knows was that someone called at her house on Wednesday of this week and inquired as to who the doctors were who attended her daughter.

The clerk in charge of the said department was interviewed yesterday and said, as is customary, the case was turned over to the agent of the board of health a couple of days ago, but this department has yet to act.

THE TUBERCULOSIS CAMP

Report Shows Character of Work Done

CASES NOT TOO FAR ADVANCED MADE PROGRESS

The Result Will Undoubtedly Save Lives of a Number of Those Who Were Treated

The following report of the work of the Lowell General Hospital camp for tuberculosis has been submitted by Dr. George A. Leachy, secretary, and shows that the camp has done a great deal of good for patients and their families. Dr. Leachy's report to the trustees of the hospital is as follows:—

Gentlemen:—The Lowell General hospital camp for tuberculosis, made possible through the generosity of Mr. Frederick Fanning Ayer, opened for the year 1912 on May the 18th and closed October 5th, being open 140 days. A large number of patients presented themselves for examination, and during most of the season a waiting list existed. Forty-one patients were admitted at various times, one being transferred to the hospital proper after 12 days' stay. Nineteen were males and twenty-two females. The total of the days of treatment was 2125, an average stay of 52 days per patient, nine remained over 130 days.

Dr. John H. Lambert and Dr. Royden H. Pillsbury were again selected by the staff as medical directors of the camp. Each patient was examined in regard to the condition of the lungs, pulse, temperature, the skin reaction to tuberculin, the absence or presence of tubercle bacilli in the sputum, weight, and the general condition, and charts and records thereof kept.

Of the forty-one admitted, seven had no sputum; in nine the bacilli were found microscopically and in twenty-four this test was negative. The Moro tuberculin test, however, was positive in twenty-seven patients. In a few cases the sputum and Moro tests were both negative.

Fourteen patients presented charts showing a more or less constant rise in temperature from 99 to 101; 26 were normal at all times as regards temperature.

Two children were admitted for inflammatory diseases of the eye, exanthematic conjunctivitis being invariably associated with latent or active tuberculosis; one of these improved, one did not improve as to the eye, though gaining in weight.

Nearly all of the patients made a gain as a result of their stay. Three lost a few pounds; thirty-seven gained from one to nineteen pounds six ounces; four gained over 15 pounds; fifteen gained from ten pounds to nine. Altogether this was a better showing than was made in the preceding year.

Aside from the gain in weight, and having regard to the physical condition from all points, nineteen are listed as discharged improved, and nineteen not improved, the lungs being negative in the remaining three at all times. Some of these unimproved had been in the camp but a short time, as eleven days, six days, eighteen days and so on. Some so listed also, made a gain in weight, some are listed as "condition same" as at entrance.

Considering the time spent at the camp and the nature of the disease, your committee considers this a satisfactory showing. At the close of the season, many of the patients, instructed in the benefits of this form of treatment, secured admission to various state sanatoria, under the many advantages of which many of them must have made further improvement. Papers were made out at the hospital for about fourteen who went to the Reading Sanatorium and two to Rutland. We feel that the camp has done a great deal of good for these forty-one patients and their families, in putting them on the right road, instructing them in the prophylaxis of tuberculosis, and giving them time to gain strength and courage for what to some of them may be a much longer and stubborn contest.

Young Couple Honored by Friends on the Eve of their Marriage—Pleasant Affair at 308 Aiken Street

Mr. Valere Harvey, son of Mrs. Joseph J. The presentation was made by Napoleon Bourque and was followed by an elaborate musical program by the Jolly Five Co. A dainty luncheon was served and it was late when the party broke up, extending their best wishes to the future benedict.

MRS. PANKHURST'S DAUGHTERS URGE REVENGE CRUSADE

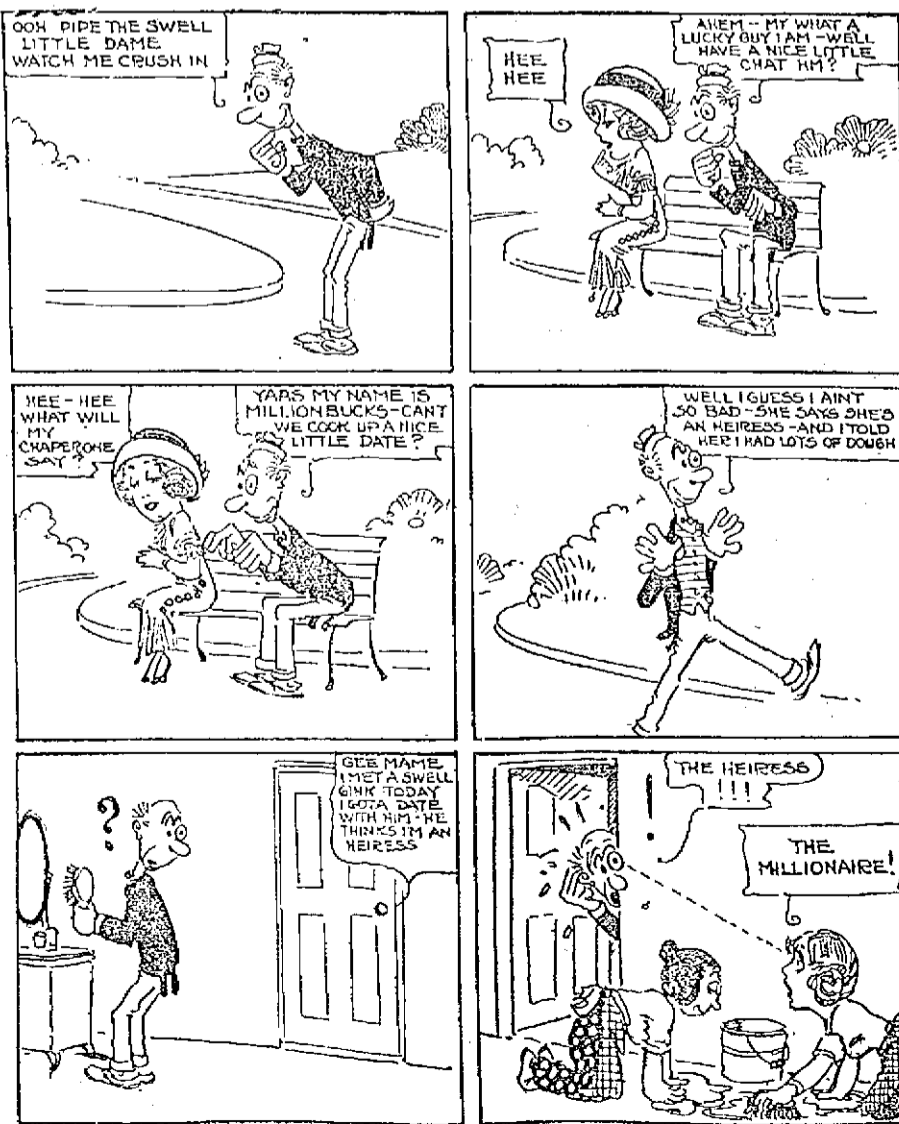

LONDON, April 5.—The revenge crusade started by the militant suffragettes following the conviction and sentence of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, their leader, is stirring all England as Miss Christabel Pankhurst and Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, daughters of the "votes for women" fighters. Buildings have been burned and blown up, and lives have been endangered in a riot of violence. Many arrests have been made. This does not stop the outrages done in the name of woman suffrage. Mrs. Pankhurst, in prison for a three year term, is the heroine of the millions. They claim they will go to still more desperate lengths to protest against "man made" laws.

Very enjoyable evening was spent before departing; the guests her a linen shower, the affair being held at the home of her parents. A

SAILING IN THE TICKLISH AIR ALONG FRENCH-GERMAN BORDER

PARIS, April 5.—French army aviation circles are agog over the recent seizure of the German war airship Z-4, which came down by accident on the military parade grounds at Lunenburg. The military was called on to suppress the disturbance, and an action has been brought against the newspaper for its joke. There was no joke about the landing at Lunenburg, near Nancy, however. The airship came down at a spot where a brigade of French riflemen were drilling. Before they landed the crew of the airship pulled in the German flag and tore it to pieces and then threw it to the wind, thus preventing a possibly awkward frontier situation. The German officer in command of the airship explained to the French commander, Brigadier-General Antide Le m. Leot, that the reason for the landing was because of a defect in the airship's motor. This picture shows the latest type of "boat" shown on the Zeppelin airship. It is so constructed that if the big dirigible comes down at sea the occupants of the car are safe.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

ENGLAND'S PROBLEM

The problem of dealing with the militant suffragettes has become a matter of the greatest importance to England. Although the laws that govern the situation are restrictive and delicate enough, the authorities have dealt with the offending women up to the present time with great leniency, and the result has been that the cause of the women has become a national conscience and it will help in remedying the lax laws that make the militant suffragettes a joke among the nations. The light that broke on the heart of the dying wife of T. A. Holmes, a member of the noble fathers and mothers of the land, and laws will be enacted to protect our national life from the divorce evil as it now exists.

POLICE ACTIVITY

In the spring cleaning campaign, which is a very necessary part of our municipal business, the police department can be of the greatest service. The board of health may give orders about the cleaning of back yards and lots, the street department may exercise unusual care and thoroughness in cleaning up the streets, and the police can do for more than these. They can enforce regulations and see that the people do their share in bringing about the desired and required conditions. Members of the police department are distributed over every section of the city, their duties bring them in touch with the homes and premises of practically all the people; they have sufficient authority to enforce any demands that they may find it necessary to make. Finally a request from a police officer would be sufficient to bring about better conditions. People do not offend consciously but oftentimes from carelessness or indifference. If one family in a neighborhood starts a vigorous campaign, the example spreads quickly and the neighbors will not be behind. Everything is in getting a better spirit among the people, and to do this the police of the city could work wonders if they keep on the alert for the next few weeks and issue a warning or a mild request as the occasion demands to those whose homes or premises are unsanitary or unclean. The mayor as head of the department of public safety has ample power to authorize the police to act in cooperation with the board of health.

THE HUMAN SIDE

Men like the late J. Pierpont Morgan are usually judged in connection with their relations to the public, and the human side is not often considered. They become merely abstract considerations, partaking of the characteristics with which these relations are surrounded. In the present case the late Mr. Morgan is to many the impersonation of the power of great wealth. They do not see the heart that beats under the austere exterior, or the human traits which made him beloved by a large circle of intimate friends. Yet we read that when he came to the dedication of a monument to his father he was so overcome with emotion that he had to rush from the building, and spent the time visiting the scenes made sacred by the memories of childhood. Another incident is the conferring of a fellowship of the New York museum on a little child which prattled to him once when he visited the institution. Little incidents such as this show that no matter how engrossed a man becomes by great affairs, or how gigantic his interests, he is still of the same clay as the rest of us. Perhaps the secret of success in the greatest undertakings lies in the humanity which is hidden in all hearts, whether that of a Morgan or the least of men.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION FUND

The generosity of the old merchants' association is shown by the action of its executive committee, acting through the board of trade, made possible the large influx of visitors from the surrounding towns which helped to make the celebration of Lowell day such a great success. This generosity was manifested by the organization of an old fund of the association for the purpose of defraying the transportation expenses so that hundreds of people who came from Lawrence, Nashua, and the smaller towns could come as guests of the city. Although the original purpose of the fund was the creation of large advertising bill boards in the suburbs, the executive committee and the secretary of the board of trade did not hesitate to apply it to the new project with very satisfactory results. For this they deserve praise and public appreciation for their object was a worthy one which will be of general usefulness. Lowell day was a success and we venture the prediction that it will stimulate Lowell an annual event of great importance to all classes of business men. Hereafter it would be well to hold the parade outdoors in the morning and make them sufficiently attractive to serve the purpose in view.

MEET ME AT THE LOWELL INN
The best place in Lowell to get a good square meal.

Unpleasant

Beverly Times: The Bulgarian colors are very popular among the women this spring. It gives you an idea of why the Turks have run so fast.

Pleasing Him

Lawrence Telegram: Yale students welcome Taft with much enthusiasm. Now if they will study their lessons with as much enthusiasm, he will undoubtedly continue to be pleased.

Disappointed

New Bedford Mercury: Wall street, we were told the other day, "disappointed" the effect of the death of Mr. P. P. Morgan. Now we are told that the "disappointment" of Wall street has been "disappointed" by Wall street. Wall street has disappointed so many things that business is scarce.

Chance for a Bet

Springfield Union: While Governor Salter is asking one senator to resign another senator is demanding the impeachment of the governor. But for New York's anti-rumbling law there would be an excellent chance for the bookmakers to start some betting on the chances of the senator resigning before the governor is impeached, or the governor resigning before the senator resigns.

Optimism

Johnston Democrat: President Wilson has been at the helm for almost a full month and next Monday a democratic congress begins a revision of the tariff law ever written. And here is Charles M. Schwab's commentary on the situation of today: "I am naturally optimistic, but I have never been so thoroughly optimistic as I do today. Business is extremely prosperous and I have every hope of a good year. The plans have plenty of orders and conditions in trade are entirely satisfactory. I am more than pleased with the outlook." The same sort of optimism seems everywhere to prevail.

Parcels Post

Worcester Post: It is another stroke of common sense from this administration when Postmaster General Butler rescinds the order that double postage be collected in case ordinary stamps are used on parcel-post packages. Now the special delivery stamp will be used on parcels sent by mail and the rates under the zone system will be reduced. But these are matters for legislation.

Commission-Governed Cities

Lawrence Eagle: Generally speaking, the present character of officials in commission-governed cities is very much higher than prevailed under the older forms. This is because the electors are beginning to see that they are responsible. In the last analysis, and the form of government, for the character of public officials selected. At most, a law can make it easy and feasible to select competent men. It cannot of itself take the place of the power and duty of selection, which is always with the electors. Where it always has rested, where it always must continue to rest—in the hands of the electors themselves.

Jolly Tars

Brookline Times: Secretary of the Navy Daniels' plan to make the lot of the enlisted man more pleasant may or may not materially affect the number of desertions, but his purpose at least is commendable. According to a recent announcement, the Atlantic fleet's deadly routine of hard drills will be broken. Mediterranean cruises alternating with the regular drill cruises in the West Indies. In addition, the new program includes 20

ANSWER THE CALL

Lowell People Have Found That This is Necessary.

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench. A little cause may hurt the kidneys. Spills of backache often follow. Or some irregularity of the urine. A splendid remedy for such attacks. A medicine that has satisfied thousands.

Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a special kidney remedy. Many Lowell people rely on it. Here is Lowell proof. Mrs. Mary J. Mullen, 33 Prince St., Lowell, Mass., says: "For a year or more I suffered from kidney trouble. The chief symptom was a heavy pain across the small of my back, and to stoop or straighten caused sharp twinges to dart through my body. The kidney secretions were unnatural and caused much distress. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills I made up my mind to try them and I am now glad that I did so. The pains in my back were soon relieved and my condition improved in every way. Now, whenever I notice weakness in my back or I feel out of sorts, I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and am soon well."

days have each year for the fact as the officers, surely a liberal concession and one that will be appreciated. It seems the new naval department, whatever misdeeds policies it may adopt regarding the progress or upkeep of naval strength, intends to make the most of such opportunities as it may find to improve without encumbering the organization. Perhaps, in time, the time on a battleship will be almost as fascinating as the enthralling poster pictures indicate.

MELANCHOLY WOMEN

Should Profit by Mrs. Hurley's Experience—Her Own Story Here Told.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, organic inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased once a month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world."

"After I had tried most every female remedy first, without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise my medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backaches, and bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

FOUND TO BE UNDER AGE

De Quattro Held for the Juvenile Session

GEO. A. STEWART ACQUITTED OF CHARGE AGAINST HIM

Police Court Session Was Very Brief—Drunk Offenders Given a Chance to Reform

The few cases which went to make up the police court docket of this morning were of brief duration and were disposed of with considerable dispatch by Judge Knight.

Augusta De Quattro, the youngster accused of breaking and entering the storehouse of Mr. David Dixon, local tea merchant, on Sunday last and taking therefrom a quantity of soap, and whose case was continued from yesterday, was arraigned this morning. The difficulty of the trial yesterday arose with a dispute as to the age of the defendant, his father testifying that he was not yet 17 years of age. Upon investigation this was found to be the case and he was held for the juvenile session on next Friday. It is said that at the time of the arrest, the father testified that his son would be 15 years old soon, but his statement in court during the trial was in denial of this.

Defendant Discharged
George A. Stewart, who was recently tried on a charge of carrying him with carrying in the business of plumbing without a license, was discharged this morning when the complaint was dismissed.

Drunk Offenders
Among the drunken offenders was John Dvornicki, who was fined $5, it being his second appearance. The case of William Salmon was continued one week for sentence and the man was allowed to go upon his promise to go to the city hospital for treatment for over-indulgence in liquor. He appeared to be in bad shape from the effects of alcoholic beverages. It was through his wife that he obtained this chance to improve. Bernard Conception was given a six months' period on probation.

FIREMEN AND ENGINEERS

Four Licenses Issued This Week by State Boiler Inspector Moran of This City

There are four new firemen and engineers in Lowell, according to State Boiler Inspector Moran, who issued the four licenses this week. Examinations were held in his office in the Central block, and altogether nine men were examined through the crisis of questions which accompanied a petition for examination. Six of the men came from Boston to find a helping hand in the local inspection, and of the nine applicants six took individual examinations, while the other three were examined in a group. Four licenses were granted and among them was one to a colored man.

"THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE"

nurse through a misunderstanding of the words of the father of a child, interpreting "Pilot" as "Pirate" when the father was making plans for the future of the son, causes his education to be along lines that will bring him to the position of a pirate's apprentice. Thus it is that the Pirates of Penzance hit into their fold to instruct him and train him in their ways. It is at the completion of his apprenticeship that he is brought before the audience. The pirates make a capture of several maidens and this is the means of bringing the other feminine members into prominence. Then there is the natural course of love making and new developments which must not here be recorded as to complete the story now would be to remove the keen enjoyment which the piece will have for many tonight and on next Wednesday evening when performances will be given. Suffice it to state that before the final fall of the curtain, the tangled affairs of all are straightened out in a way that cannot be misunderstood by the audience. The pirates, with all their oddities, their ferocious appearance combined with their good natured disposition, two apparently repugnant qualities in such characters which are only a tribute to the rare satire of the authors. The characters, the story and the singing last night were all excellent and well brought out to the best advantage.

The cast of the principals in "The Pirates of Penzance" last evening was as follows:

Richard, a Pirate Chief, Nelson C. Chase, 112 Samuel, his Lieutenant, Charles L. Patton, 112 Frederic, a Pirate Apprentice, Charles L. Patton, 112 Major-General Stanley, of the British Army, Harry B. Dutton, 112 Edward, a Sergeant of Police, Harry B. Dutton, 112 Mabel, General Stanley's Youngest Daughter, Frances E. H. Leggat, 112 Kate, Edith, Isabel, General Stanley's Daughters, Anna M. Egan, Anna K. McCashin, 112 Olga U. Lofgren, 112 Ruth, a Piratical "Maid-of-all-Work," Ethel B. Thompson, 112

The singing and acting of all was very good. The piece was staged under the direction of Mr. Frederick O. Blunt, assisted by Miss Mary C. Joyce, teacher of elocution in the high school and the work of the members of the cast as a whole redounds to the credit of both the above.

Some of the musical numbers were marked favorites with the audience and the latter more than once recalled the principals to provide an encore. The role of the pirate chief, "Richard," assumed by Nelson C. Chase, is a difficult one to sing and was admirably taken by Mr. Chase last evening. He is the burly, strutting pirate chief of varying moods, the contrast between his apparent brutality and the humor and kindness which circumstances cause him to show, making him a typical Gilbert and Sullivan character.

As "Mabel," one of the brightest and most pleasing characters which the piece contains, and one which demands marked ability on the part of the person taking the part, Miss Frances E.

HORSE BEATS THE AUTO CAPTURED IN LOWELL

In Economy on Parcel Post Delivery

Man Wanted For Deserting Family Taken

THIRD OUT BOTH IN POINT OF EFFICIENCY

Has Returned to the Horse and Wagon As More Satisfactory and Economical

Postmaster Legare has finally decided that the horse and team delivery is superior in point of time saved, as well as more economical financially, than the automobile delivery for his parcel post distribution.

Two teams were put on the city routes when the parcel post system was first installed in Lowell with extra men on the payroll to attend to the new delivery. Later an automobile was tried out for a week but given up both on account of the extra expense entailed and the fact that the larger packages reached their destination later than before.

Recently an automobile was again brought into use to see if some scheme could not be thought out whereby machinery would not prove a change for the better over the horse and wagon system, but was given up after a ten days' trial. In all probability the horse will prove the motive force in the future for all parcel post deliveries.

Deposits made this week in The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank begin to draw interest April 5th.

HAS SISTER IN LOWELL BEYOND ITS JURISDICTION

Mrs. Nellie Hill Died in Park Commission Will Not Hear Charges

Los Angeles

Superintendent of Police Redmond, Welch is in receipt of the following telegram from Los Angeles, California, informing him of the death of Mrs. Nellie Hill, said to be a sister of Mary Mehan of this city:

Los Angeles, Cal., April 4, 1913. Chief of Police: Mrs. Nellie Hill died suddenly. She has a sister living in Lowell. Think her name is Mary Mehan. Look her up and have her write instructions. There is enough money here to pay for an inexpensive funeral, but not enough for shipment.

The chief has taken steps to locate the Mary Mehan mentioned and acquaint her with the news of her sister's death.

Landslide Overtakes Train

MARSHALL, Tex., April 5.—Part of a Texas and Pacific passenger train was overturned east of Provencher, La., yesterday by a landslide and the locomotive fireman was killed and two train employees were hurt.

Performances of "The Pirates of Penzance" will be given tonight and next Wednesday night and after tonight's performance there will be dancing.

John J. Gahity of Branford, Conn., was arrested this morning in this city by Inspector Maher of the local police department on a warrant for desertion of his wife and family in Branford.

Up to May, 1912, it is said, Gahity was a man of good standing in the Connecticut town, being engaged in the insurance business there. He suddenly disappeared, however, and nothing was seen or heard of him until during the early part of last summer some Branford people who knew him chance to be in Lowell and saw Gahity in the Syndicate Shoe store in Gorham street. They said nothing for a long time but finally mentioned the fact to some one who told the man's wife. She immediately communicated with the authorities in this city and sent a photograph of her husband. Inspector Maher went to the shoe store and made sure that the man he wanted was there. Then today he went and made the arrest. Gahity said that he had been a clerk in that store since early last summer and that he is rooming at 267 Appleton street.

This morning the deputy sheriff of Branford came here and identified the man who took him home. The prisoner seemed glad to see him. He was working here for eight dollars a week, all of which he used for his own support, and he has, it is said, failed to contribute to the support of his wife and family since leaving them.

GOES TO SLEEP STANDING

Boy Suffers Attack of Epileptic Coma

LYNN, April 5.—A strange case of epileptic coma was reported last evening at the home of Francis St. Croix, 50 Lowell street. Frank St. Croix, his 5-year-old son is now lying unconscious, but with his eyes open, and the attending physician declares that he may remain in that state for a week or more.

The child was standing in the middle of the kitchen floor when he went to sleep and, after a moment, fell over upon the floor and could not be aroused. His pulse and temperature were found to be normal, and his eyes remained open after he was put to bed.

LONG FOND VACATIONISTS

To Be Honored in Collapsible—Meeting to Organize Welcome Party Has Been Called for Tomorrow

A meeting of all the parishioners of St. Mary's church, Collapsible, will be held tomorrow afternoon for the purpose of organizing a welcome party in honor of the Long Pond vacationists.

The affair will be held at Harmony hall at 2:30 o'clock and all the members of the parish are invited to be present. Rev. Thomas A. Walsh, pastor of the church, will preside and a committee will be named to look after arrangements for the event.

Last January a large number of summer residents of Long Pond, who make their home in Roxbury and Boston, conducted a very successful party in the hall of St. Mary's church, and the receipts netted a very substantial sum which was turned over to the pastor. The same to be devoted to the church fund.

A token of appreciation, the members of St. Mary's church are now planning a reception to these people. The same will be held on the evening of April 12, at Harmony hall, and all are much interested in this movement which is sure to be very successful.

HAS SISTER IN LOWELL BEYOND ITS JURISDICTION

Mrs. Nellie Hill Died in Park Commission Will Not Hear Charges

Los Angeles

Superintendent of Police Redmond, Welch is in receipt of the following telegram from Los Angeles, California, informing him of the death of Mrs. Nellie Hill, said to be a sister of Mary Mehan of this city:

Los Angeles, Cal., April 4, 1913. Chief of Police: Mrs. Nellie Hill died suddenly. She has a sister living in Lowell. Think her name is Mary Mehan. Look her up and have her write instructions. There is enough money here to pay for an inexpensive funeral, but not enough for shipment.

The chief has taken steps to locate the Mary Mehan mentioned and acquaint her with the news of her sister's death.

Landslide Overtakes Train

MARSHALL, Tex., April 5.—Part of a Texas and Pacific passenger train was overturned east of Provencher, La., yesterday by a landslide and the locomotive fireman was killed and two train employees were hurt.

Performances of "The Pirates of Penzance" will be given tonight and next Wednesday night and after tonight's performance there will be dancing.

John J. Gahity of Branford, Conn., was arrested this morning in this city by Inspector Maher of the local police department on a warrant for desertion of his wife and family in Branford.

Up to May, 1912, it is said, Gahity was a man of good standing in the Connecticut town, being engaged in the insurance business there. He suddenly disappeared, however, and nothing was seen or heard of him until during the early part of last summer some Branford people who knew him chance to be in Lowell and saw Gahity in the Syndicate Shoe store in Gorham street. They said nothing for a long time but finally mentioned the fact to some one who told the man's wife. She immediately communicated with the authorities in this city and sent a photograph of her husband. Inspector Maher went to the shoe store and made sure that the man he wanted was there. Then today he went and made the arrest. Gahity said that he had been a clerk in that store since early last summer and that he is rooming at 267 Appleton street.

This morning the deputy sheriff of Branford came here and identified the man who took him home. The prisoner seemed glad to see him. He was working here for eight dollars a week, all of which he used for his own support, and he has, it is said, failed to contribute to the support of his wife and family since leaving them.

LYNN, April 5.—A strange case of epileptic coma was reported last evening at the home of Francis St. Croix, 50 Lowell street. Frank St. Croix, his 5-year-old son is now lying unconscious, but with his eyes open, and the attending physician declares that he may remain in that state for a week or more.

The child was standing in the middle of the kitchen floor when he went to sleep and, after a moment, fell over upon the floor and could not be aroused. His pulse and temperature were found to be normal, and his eyes remained open after he was put to bed.

LONG FOND VACATIONISTS

To Be Honored in Collapsible—Meeting to Organize Welcome Party Has Been Called for Tomorrow

A meeting of all the parishioners of St. Mary's church, Collapsible, will be held tomorrow afternoon for the purpose of organizing a welcome party in honor of the Long Pond vacationists.

The affair will be held at Harmony hall at 2:30 o'clock and all the members of the parish are invited to be present. Rev. Thomas A. Walsh, pastor of the church, will preside and a committee will be named to look after arrangements for the event.

Last January a large number of summer residents of Long Pond, who make their home in Roxbury and Boston, conducted a very successful party in the hall of St. Mary's church, and the receipts netted a very substantial sum which was turned over to the pastor. The same to be devoted to the church fund.

A token of appreciation, the members of St. Mary's church are now planning a reception to these people. The same will be held on the evening of April 12, at Harmony hall, and all are much interested in this movement which is sure to be very successful.

AGREE TO WILSON'S
FINAL DECISIONDemocratic Majority of Ways

on Sugar Schedule

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The democratic majority of the ways and means committee voted unanimously today to agree to President Wilson's final decision as to the sugar schedule and adjourned to Monday. It will agree either on free sugar or low duty to be eliminated entirely in three years. President Wilson is expected to make his decision today.

Effort to Defeat Wilson's Plan
WASHINGTON, April 5.—The new tariff bill underwent a careful examination today at the hands of members of the senate finance committee. While the anti-sugar forces from Louisiana and other cane and beet sugar states were making an effort to rally enough strength to defeat President Wilson's compromise plan, the senate leaders were analyzing all contested parts of the bill, so they can tell President Wilson tomorrow whether they can accept it without change. The action of Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee in turning the committee's bill over to the senate for examination is almost unprecedented in tariff history. It is claimed. Senate leaders insisted they

MISSIONS NEXT WEEK NEW TELEPHONE OFFICE

At St. Peter's and St. Patrick's Churches

Tomorrow opens the second week of the four weeks' mission at St. Peter's church and the week will be devoted to the unmarried women of the parish. The mission last week was for the married women and was most successful in every respect, there being very large congregations at all of the services. The Redemptorist Fathers preached some of the most eloquent and appealing sermons that have ever been heard in this city and they were highly appreciated by all who heard them. The third period of this retreat will be for the married men and the fourth and last week for the single men of the parish.

At St. Patrick's a two weeks' mission is in progress, the first week of which was devoted to the women, beginning tomorrow the men will have their retreat. This mission is being conducted by the Jesuit fathers, four in number, and is also most successful and equally impressive. Both the upper and lower churches have been crowded at all services, including the early morning masses for those who have to go to their work early.

A two weeks' mission will open at St. Margaret's church in the Highlands on Sunday evening, April 20, by the Redemptorist Fathers.

DIST. ATTY. CALLED FOR CESSATION

Mayor O'Donnell Asks for Investigation
of Alderman on the Charge of Exceeding His Appropriation

Mayor O'Donnell has forwarded to District Attorney John J. Higgins a statement of what he believes to be a violation of the amended city charter on the part of Commissioner George H. Brown, in regard to creating liabilities against the city in excess of the appropriation made for the department of streets and highways in 1912, which liabilities have not yet been paid by the city. The mayor's communication to the district attorney reads as follows:

John J. Higgins, Esq.,
District Attorney,
Cambridge, Mass.

Dear Sir:
As Mayor of Lowell, and at the demand of many of the citizens of Lowell, I feel it my duty to invite your attention to what I believe to be a direct and knowing violation of section 32, of chap. 615 of the Acts of 1911, which reads as follows:

Sec. 32.—No officer of said city, except in the case of extreme emergency involving the health or safety of the people or their property, shall expend knowingly, in any fiscal year, any sum in excess of the appropriation therefor duly made in accordance with law, and any officer who shall violate this provision shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

There was appropriated by the municipal council of the city of Lowell in the year 1912, for the carrying on of the business of the department of streets and highways, the sum of $10,000. Commissioner George H. Brown was the duly appointed administrative head of that department pursuant to section 41 of chapter 615 of the acts of 1911, and as such administrative head he had the management and control of all matters pertaining to that department, and having the management and control he had intimate knowledge of all matters pertaining thereto.

At the end of the fiscal year it was disclosed that while the entire appropriation made for the street department had been expended there still remained outstanding liabilities against that department which had been contracted for by the said Commissioner Brown at different times during the year, but had not been paid.

A call to the creditors of the department to render their unpaid bills resulted in the presentation of a large number of said bills, aggregating several thousands of dollars, many of which dated back to contracts made some months previous to the close of the year, and for which in many cases bills were rendered monthly.

The situation in the street department during 1912 caused the municipal council to remove the said Commissioner Brown from the control of said department to that of finance, and with the knowledge of his conduct while at the head of the street department before him, and knowing that he had created liabilities against the city far in excess of his appropriations in 1912, it would appear that he has started upon a similar policy in the department of which he is now the administrative head, a fact that must lead to the conclusion, that his actions of last year were not done inadvertently, through carelessness or inexperience, but knowingly, in direct violation of the statutes.

In view of the fact, that the legislature in its wisdom, has considered the overrunning of an appropriation, knowingly, in the light of a criminal offense, and that I, as mayor of Lowell, have been repeatedly requested to take notice of these facts officially, I therefore respectfully address you as the county's prosecuting official to give this matter your attention.

Respectfully,
James E. O'Donnell,
Mayor of Lowell.

Another well known society which is affiliated with the Mathews is that of the Bachelor Girls who are well known especially from the high quality of the entertainment which they furnish the

ALDERMAN G. H. BROWN
Writes City Solicitor in Regard to Opinion

Alderman Brown today addressed a letter to the city solicitor inquiring about an opinion that was requested by the municipal council over a year ago in regard to the powers of the municipal board over the police department.

He quotes the following from the city charter:

Section 21. "All the powers and duties with respect to the police force in said city now vested in the board of police of the city of Lowell, are hereby transferred to, shall vest in, devolve upon, and be exercised and performed by the municipal council."

Mr. Brown states that in view of recent statements by Judge Enright the time is ripe to decide just where the control of the police department should rest, or where the governing power rests.

Bulgarian Government Replies to European Powers—Report
Scutari Has Fallen

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 5.—The Bulgarian government today handed to the diplomatic representatives of the European powers its reply to the communication made to it on March 22 concerning the suggested basis of peace between Turkey and the Balkan allies.

Contrary to expectation the European powers promptly met the objections of the Balkan allies to the terms of mediation originally proposed by making concessions designed to secure an immediate cessation of hostilities in the Balkan peninsula.

In a note presented to the Bulgarian government today the powers proposed that the Thracian frontier should be formed by a line drawn from Mulla on the Black Sea to Enos on the Aegean sea, which would give Bulgaria both banks of the river Maritza in accordance with her demands. It was also suggested that all financial questions, such as the indemnity, should be left to the decision of a technical commission to meet in Paris.

Fall of Scutari
BELGRADE, Servia, April 5.—No confirmation has been received here of the report that the Turkish fortress of Scutari had fallen to the Montenegrin and Servian besiegers.

The allied armies outside the city summoned the Turkish commander to surrender so as to avoid further useless bloodshed but the Ottoman leader replied that he intended to fight to the last extremity. The bombardment was thereupon reopened and a general assault ordered.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

HOPES OF DEALERS REALIZED

Local Auto Agents Made a Great Many Sales—Purchasers Are Satisfied

Business continues to be brisk with the numerous automobile dealers throughout the city and with the coming of the proper season, their hope of a big increase in the sales was realized. At present many of those who put in their orders for cars early are enjoying their possession.

Very many new machines have been seen piloted about the streets by their pleased owners, an evidence of the growing popularity of the machine. Then, too, many of the merchants have replaced their teams with auto trucks for delivering orders to customers in and out of the city and business has increased accordingly.

In regard to the activity of the local agents, and there are several new ones this year, no word of appreciation is necessary, for the results of their work and the satisfaction of their customers speak for them.

George Russell Dana, Jr. attended a meeting of the New England Hudson automobile dealers held in Boston Thursday last at which time the Hudson company gave a dinner to their representatives, some 25 in number, at Hotel Lenox. That the Hudson is some car and is meeting with very gratifying success was in evidence at the meeting.

Mr. Dana's Plan
The writer in conversation with Geo. R. Dana relative to automobile tires was informed that Mr. Dana's plan is to render valuable service to his customers. For illustration, should one of his customers have trouble through misfortune, or by defect, the tire will be replaced at once and a satisfactory adjustment guaranteed. This would give the customer simple protection and minimum chances of annoyance.

Mr. McCann's Big Business

In a comparatively short time, Mr. Mark McCann, who entered into the motorcycle and bicycle business in Gorham street in the Lincoln block, and who took the agency of the Excelsior and Dayton machines, built up a large business and added considerably to the popularity of the motorcycle in this vicinity. Mr. McCann's sales have not been limited to Lowell but have extended to the suburbs and surrounding towns. Recently he received a shipment of nearly a dozen new motorcycles, which in very close to a record, if not actually a record shipment of the kind for Lowell.

Geo Trucks Popular

Watch the Geo trucks increase in number on the streets of our city during the coming summer. Already Geo. P. White, local agent, with place of business in Middlesex street, has closed in on contracts with several local merchants, who wish to substitute the fast motor delivery cars for the horse and team. The Chelmsford Spring Co., manufacturers of carbonated beverages, and for many years users of the Geo truck, have negotiated for the delivery of a two-ton truck, which will be turned over within a few days. Friend Brothers, bakers, have also purchased a Geo for city proper and distant deliveries. The chassis of this car is already in this city and the body, which will be built to dimensions furnished by the baking company, will be constructed here.

NOT HARMED BY FLOOD

Indianapolis Speedway in Good Shape

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 5.—Despite all rumors to the contrary which have been freely circulated about the country, the Indianapolis Motor Speedway has not been touched by the flood which has held Indianapolis in its grasp during the past week, and the Speedway management reports that not a dollar's worth of property connected with the big race track has been harmed. The Speedway is situated on high ground northwest of Indianapolis and was several miles removed from the flood zone. The roadway which leads to the Speedway from the central part of Indianapolis is of solid concrete and today is in as perfect shape as it was before the heavy rains began falling. The floor will in no way injure the third annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes race scheduled for May 30, and despite the tremendous excitement caused by the flood interest in the great speed contest has never been lost sight of.

Those who have planned to tour to Indianapolis for the race have been assured that they will find perfect conditions awaiting them. The full-size roads are all in excellent shape, and with a few days' sun will be in fine condition for touring. The bridges damaged by the flood will all be repaired long before race day, and there is nothing which should detract from the success which will undoubtedly attend the greatest automobile race ever held within the history of the sport.

During the midst of all the excitement of last week the Speedway management received an interesting entry from Johnny Jenkins, the veteran driver, who will make a desperate effort to be a victor this year at the wheel of a fast car. Jenkins has made formal entry of the car himself, and announces that his mount will be in shape for a tryout in a few days.

"Johnny" Jenkins, who entered the racing game by way of the prize ring, is noted for his nerve and skill as a driver. He has piloted many cars and is almost as well known in Europe as he is in America, his debut as a race driver having been made when he associated himself with Venus, an Italian wonder.

When a Motorist Needs a Friend

It is after he has bought. It does not matter much what car you buy or how much you pay, sooner or later you will have need of the dealer.

If he is strong, intelligent and interested he will give you service.

If he has split his profits when he sold you your car, if he has no ideals and is not broad, in other words, is not successful nor a good business man, you will sooner or later regret your having bought of him.

The best car it is possible to build, fails if the dealer's support is not back of it. Inquire among motorists about our standing. Before you buy any car consider the dealer who sells it quite as much as you would the car itself.

See that he is well established and that he has a reputation for giving service. Be sure he is prosperous. Service is not possible if he cuts prices or if he makes unreasonable allowances for second-hand cars and thus ties up all his capital in worthless assets.

It is the part of good business to buy only of successful business men, whether it be motor cars or any other line of merchandise. The dealer must be a good business man or no matter what car he sells, you risk losing all the motor satisfaction you should have.

Buy a Six if You Are Paying More Than $2,000

The "54" HUDSON is all that any automobile at any price can be in performance, luxury, comfort and value. Backed by our own service you will find in it as near an approach to ideal motor satisfaction as is known.

The "54" HUDSON is the answer to a question that has long concerned all automobile builders: "What will Howard F. Coffin do when he builds a Six?"

When he built this car he had as his associates experts from 97 leading American and European factories—48 all told.

Thus all guess work was eliminated—all experiment made unnecessary. With so many viewpoints and so much experience, errors that others had made were eliminated—advancements that others found impossible were easily accomplished.

The "54" HUDSON has electric lights. It is electrically self-cranking. The famous Delco system, patented, is used. Every luxury is included, speedometer, clock, top, curtains, rain-vision windshield, demountable rims, 12-inch upholstery, etc. Equipped with a five-passenger Phaeton body at $2450, f. o. b. Detroit.

At $1875 you can obtain the HUDSON "37"—designed by the same engineers that built the "54"—and pointed to as the "Four-cylinder masterpiece."

MOTORCYCLES

The year 1913 will be a "large" year for motor cycles. Just as popular as was the "bike" five or six years ago, will the motorcycle become in 1913.

And why? Mainly because the EXCELSIOR GRIP CONTROL CLUTCH has eliminated from the motorcycle that one last objectionable feature—uncertainty of control. With the Excelsior you can control your machine through TRAFFIC or SLIPPERY PAVEMENT with both hands on the bars, instead of slipping the clutch with one hand and steering with the other.

This is but one feature of the EXCELSIOR that makes it the BEST MOTORCYCLE BUILT. Our beautiful ART CATALOGUE describes them all. It is free for the asking.

SPRING'S CAR PROBLEM

Question of "Open or Closed" Answered

With the coming of the days when the motor-lover gets really busy—the spring days when the call of the open country and the free highway is most insistent—arises the annual question of the automobile enthusiast: "Open or closed body for mine?"

When motor-cars were luxuries of the wealthy the question was easily answered. The closed car for the city and for winter use, an open body for touring and for summer—that's the obvious solution. But since motor cars have become every man's means of recreation and the family's health agency, the open or closed car problem is a puzzling and even serious one for a good many people.

The result is undoubtedly going to be a development and more general use of "two purpose" cars—such cars as are now represented in their most highly perfected form by the convertible phaeton brought out by the Stevens-Duryea people last year. The builders have found this to be a type of body of increasing popularity, and their original design was so carefully worked out that they are continuing it practically without change.

For auto enthusiasts whose use of cars for fashionable social purposes, or for bad weather town-riding, is not constant enough to keep the limousine profitably busy, the convertible meets every need," said George H. Dana, the Stevens-Duryea representative here, talking with a reporter yesterday. "The attractiveness of the convertible when used as a touring car—especially in these spring days with their uncertain weather—is the greater for the ease with which the car can be changed from open to closed, or back again, out on the road, and with only a few minutes' work. It is so skillfully built, that when it is open it does not look different from any other touring car, whether the top is up or down—except that all the time the compactness has a peculiarly trim and compact appearance."

It is predicted that the opening of the spring motoring season this year will show a fast increasing number of convertibles. The type of car is not yet very well known, but owners' reports indicate that it has made good wherever it has been used. This season's Stevens-Duryea phaeton is the latest C-Six chassis and has the general C-Six design which has attracted so much attention at this year's shows as the standard for fine motor-cars of the future.

Mr. Bachelder Made Many Sales

The famous Indian motor-cycle, carried exclusively in this city by Mr. Bachelder in Post Office Avenue, is proving to be a big favorite in the field of two wheeled motor vehicles and the number of his sales has been many. Mr. Ted Pearson has been among the purchasers of this excellent machine, together with a well known mail carrier and several others. The ranks of the Indian riders in Lowell are considerably augmented this year. Mr. Bachelder has also the Pope machine, another strong favorite with enthusiasts and he has disposed of many of them since the first of the year. His place is very much larger since the recent remodeling which it underwent and he has a splendid attractive and commanding display.

ALL PRISONERS TO BE EXAMINED

Law Says Person When Arrested Must be Examined for Injuries—Became Effective Today

Today there goes into effect an act passed by the Massachusetts legislature in regard to the examination in station houses, jails, etc., of men arrested for criminal offenses, to see that they are not suffering from any wound or other injury. The law reads as follows:

CHAPTER 236
An act to provide for reports of injuries of persons arrested.
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in legal session, that:
Section 1. Whenever a person is arrested for a criminal offense and is taken to or confined in a jail, police station, lockup or other place, the officer in charge thereof shall immediately examine the prisoner and if he finds any bruises, cuts or other injuries, shall forthwith make a written report thereof to the chief of police of the city or town concerned, except that in Boston, the report shall be made to the police commissioner and in towns where there is no chief of police the reports shall be made to the selectmen.
Section 2. Failure to comply with the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each offense.
Approved March 6, 1913.

Since the above law was scheduled to go into effect 90 days after its approval by the legislature, that brings it to a formal law today.

It seems that the author of this law must have had in mind some specific instance where failure to properly treat a prisoner resulted in discomfort or sickness, for the terms of the act seem to imply as much. Chief Welch of the police department when asked by representatives of the about press this morning stated that as far as he can see, this law will make no change whatever in the method of procedure at the Lowell police station, and he stated that he cannot see what is exactly the question for such a general order of the legislature. In Lowell the police have always been careful to see to it that their prisoners have received proper medical treatment in case of injury or illness and never once has there been a complaint in this regard from anyone.

It seems to be the general opinion that the intention of the legislature is to have the prisoners stripped on being brought into the station and examined for bruises or cuts or other injuries. This it would seem would be a sort of indignity and a humiliation to the man or woman who is an unfortunate, and again in many cases to the persons who are to make this examination, for in many cases of prisoners being punished in they are temporarily insane from the effects of liquor and would put up a strenuous resistance.

Chief Welch said that he will issue a statement to his men concerning the law and order them to be on the watch for injuries, etc., in prisoners brought in, and in doing this, he says he will merely be continuing to comply with a law which has always been his own law here even before the legislature took the matter up at all. Each of the Massachusetts newspapers have taken advantage of this order for humorous articles and commentaries upon the law, with suggestions as to the wild incidents which would in some cases at least, accompany an attempt to strip and examine a prisoner.

OBJECT TO LUNCH CART

Y. M. C. A. Appeals to License Commission

The board of directors of the Lowell Young Men's Christian association has petitioned the city council, through the mayor, to refuse to renew the license for the maintenance of a lunch cart near the Association building. The general secretary of the association has addressed the following letter to his Honor:

Lowell, Mass., April 4, 1913.
Mayor James E. O'Donnell,
City Hall, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Lowell Young Men's Christian association it was unanimously voted to petition the license commission to revoke the license and to protest against any renewal of the same for the lunch cart located before the Association building on Dutton street, near the corner of Merrimack street. The license referred to is held by Frederick Steves.

It is the desire and intention of the directors of the association to have the space in the front of the new Association building, located on Merrimack street and also the space on Dutton street cooperating with the city in beautifying the part of the city in this vicinity.

We are assured that the directors, the trustees and the entire membership of the association have the license commission will refuse to renew the license above referred to.

Very truly yours,
D. E. Farnell, General Sec.

CITY EMPLOYEES IN U. S.

Majority Are Subject to Civil Service

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The majority of all appointments of city employees in the United States are subject to civil service examinations, according to figures announced today by the census bureau after a thorough canvass of cities having a population of over 30,000. At least this is true generally of all city employees other than school teachers, it was said.

The census bureau sent letters of inquiry as to examination of city employees to officials of the 133 cities and answers were received in 125. In answer to the inquiry "Is the passing of a civil service required as a condition precedent to the appointment of any class of employees?" 103 cities replied "yes" and 26 replied "no." Of the 103 cities answering "yes" 77 required the passing of an examination before appointment to any city position and 26 required it for one or more but not for all.

AUBURN, N. Y., April 5.—Rioting was resumed today at the International Harvester twine mill when incoming machinists were attacked. Police and a special guard in details escorted the machinists to the plant under a rain of stones but nobody was seriously hurt. The strikers succeeded in driving home many of the machinists.

Peace was restored in an hour. At the Columbian rope plant, where four were shot yesterday, everything was quiet. The National guard has full control of the works, which have been shut down completely. Organizer Charles A. Miles said today that he would probably not attend the conference which Mayor O'Neill will call as soon as State Mediator Rogers arrives from Albany.

"THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE" PRODUCED AT THE HIGH SCHOOL BY WELL TRAINED AMATEURS

MISS ETHEL B. THOMPSON

NELSON C. CHASE

MISS FRANCES LEGGAT

The first of three performances of Gilbert and Sullivan's light opera, "The Pirates of Penzance," was given last night by the high school students in the high school hall before a very large and appreciative audience who gave frequent evidence of their delight by hearty applause. The scenic effects supplied through the courtesy of Keith's theatre were remarkably effective. Taking all into consideration, the production last evening was one of the most successful ever given by the local high school young men and women.

Practically universal popularity accrues to Gilbert and Sullivan for their productions which have been played the world over by professional and amateur companies. One of their chief attractions is the sparkling, yet rather latent wit, which is to some extent lost unless one has read the libretto of the opera and gained an idea of the story. It is very difficult for the majority to thoroughly understand such a piece by one attendance at a performance, both because of the subtlety of its satire in many instances and because of the fact that being an opera, the singing of the various parts confuses many and distracts them from the story.

Consequently, a hint at the plot of "The Pirates of Penzance" at this point would not be amiss. It has in itself characteristics of a similar quality as those of the far famed "Pinafore." A

ENGLAND'S PROBLEM

The problem of dealing with the militant suffragettes has become a matter of the gravest importance to England. Although the laws that govern the situation are restrictive and definite enough, the authorities have dealt with the offending women up to the present time with great leniency, and the result has been that the outrages committed against person and property have grown in number and seriousness until militant suffrage activity now menaces the internal peace of the nation. One of the most effective methods employed by the women has been the "hunger strike." Many of the worst offenders have compelled the government to release them by refusing to partake of food in prison until a continuation of their imprisonment might result in death by starvation. The latest woman to declare a hunger strike has been the leader of the movement, Mrs. Pankhurst, a woman of education, determination and boundless activity, who has just been sentenced to three years' penal servitude for complicity in the blowing up of the summer home of the chancellor, Lloyd George. Following her open defiance of the government comes the announcement of her followers that their pernicious activity will be renewed on a larger scale than ever. Although their outrages in the past have mostly been directed towards injury to private property, burning of unoccupied houses or pleasure pavilions, they have recently attacked occupied houses and some of their leaders now declare that in furthering their ends human life will no longer be respected.

Up to the present England has not been able to deal effectively with the militant suffrage situation. The women have hidden behind the weakness of their sex and committed grave crimes without fear of serious punishment. They have a great advantage over the authorities and while such methods as hunger strikes are effective they will be able to hold this advantage. To deal effectively with the situation the English government must consider the offenders as prisoners rather than as women. One can readily understand the grave situation which would be created were all the male prisoners of England to declare hunger strikes and so compel the authorities to grant them their freedom. The case of Mrs. Pankhurst will be followed with great interest here as well as in England for the issue is now clearly drawn between the militants and the government. Until now the militants have triumphed. How to meet the situation with humanity, justice, and firmness is one of the greatest legal problems of England at the present time.

ONE OF THEM

A few days ago in New York a young woman lay dying. She had belonged to the circle of the most exclusive, and walked in the marble metropolitan heights of wealth and social station. Like many another of her set her life had been clouded by domestic infelicity, and for redress she had sought the modern remedy—the freedom of the divorce court. By her bed as she lay dying stood a little child, mute reminder of the happiness that had fled and the duty that had been discarded. As she looked at the child and realized that her hours were numbered she thought of the heritage she was just about to leave him, the memory of a broken home and paternal dishonor. The nobility that is hidden in all women awoke in her heart. She sent for her lawyer and witnesses. She summoned the husband whom she had divorced and penitently he answered her call. With her last breath she besought them all to take the matter to the courts when she was silent, and make an appeal for a dead woman that the divorce be set aside so that her child might think of his father and mother with pride, tenderness, and honor. They agreed, a sacred silence fell on the unusual group, and the woman passed calmly out of this world of quarrels and divorce courts.

Very pathetic, very melodramatic. Yes, but in the story is a great sermon. Among the thousands who yearly come before the tribunals of the divorce courts are a great many fathers and mothers. How many of them realize what a memory they will leave when death approaches and reveals many things in their true light? They may be well grounded as to their legal rights, but what of their natural, moral and legal duties? The stability of the nation depends in a great measure on the sanctity of the home and the sacredness of domestic relations. This home sanctity and security is menaced by the enormity of our divorce evil at which the rest of the world stands astounded. But those who read the signs of the times are confident that a national realization of the danger must soon dawn; the sun of an awakened national conscience is rising over the horizon and it will help in remedying the lax laws that make the American marriage tie a joke among the nations. The light that broke on the heart of the dying wife of T. Augustus Helms must soon break on the hearts of all the noble fathers and mothers of the land, and laws will be enacted to protect our national life from the divorce evil as it now exists.

POLICE ACTIVITY

In the spring cleaning campaign, which is a very necessary part of our annual municipal business, the police department can be of the greatest service. The board of health may give orders about the cleaning of back yards and lots, the street department may exercise unusual care and thoroughness in cleaning up the streets and thoroughfares, but the police can do far more than these. They can enforce regulations and see that the people do their share in bringing about the desired and required conditions. Members of the police department are distributed over every section of the city; their duties bring them in touch with the homes and premises of practically all the people; they have sufficient authority to enforce any demands that they may find it necessary to make. Usually a request from a police officer would be sufficient to bring about better conditions. People do not offend consciously but oftentimes from carelessness or indifference. If one family in a neighborhood starts a vigorous campaign, the example spreads quickly and the neighbors will not be pardoned. Everything is in getting a better spirit among the people, and to do this the police of the city could work wonders if they keep on the alert for the next few weeks and issue a warning or a mild request as the occasion demands to those whose homes or premises are unsanitary or unclean. The mayor as head of the department of public safety has ample power to authorize the police to act in cooperation with the board of health.

THE HUMAN SIDE

Men like the late J. Pierpont Morgan are usually judged in connection with their relations to the public, and the human side is not often considered. They become merely abstract considerations, partaking of the characteristics with which these relations are surrounded. In the present case the late Mr. Morgan is to many the impersonation of the power of great wealth. They do not see the heart that beats under the austere exterior, or the human traits which made him beloved by a large circle of intimate friends. Yet we read that when he came to the dedication of a monument to his father he was so overcome with emotion that he had to rush from the building, and spent the time visiting the scenes made sacred by the memories of childhood. Another incident is the conferring of a fellowship of the New York museum on a little child which prattled to him once when he visited the institution. Little incidents such as this show that no matter how engrossed a man becomes by great affairs, or how gigantic his interests, he is still of the same clay as the rest of us. Perhaps the secret of success in the greatest undertakings lies in the humanity which is hidden in all hearts, whether that of a Morgan or the least of men.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION FUND

The generosity of the old merchants' association as shown by the action of its executive committee, acting through the board of trade, made possible the large influx of visitors from the surrounding towns which helped to make the celebration of Lowell day such a great success. This generosity was manifested by the utilization of an old fund of the association for the purpose of defraying the transportation expenses so that hundreds of people who came from Lawrence, Nashua, and the smaller townships came as guests of the city. Although the original purpose of the fund was the erection of large advertising bill boards in the suburbs, the executive committee and the secretary of the board of trade did not hesitate to apply it to the new project with very satisfactory results. For this they deserve praise and public appreciation, for their object was a worthy one which will be of general usefulness. Lowell day was a success and we venture the prediction that it will ultimately become an annual event of great importance to all classes of business men. Hereafter it would be well to hold the parade features in the morning and make them sufficiently attractive to serve the purpose in view.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Engulfed

Beverly Times: The Bulgarian colors are very popular among the women this spring. It gives you idea of why the Turks have run so fast.

Dismissing Him

Lawrence Telegram: Yale students welcome Taft with much enthusiasm. Now if they will study their lessons with as much enthusiasm, he will undoubtedly continue to be pleased.

Discounted

New Bedford Mercury: Wall street, we were told the other day, "discounted" the effect of the death of J. P. Morgan. Now we are told that the "discounting" of Wall street, Wall street has discounted so many things that bargains are scarce.

Change for a Bet

Springfield Union: While Governor Sulzer is asking one senator to resign another senator is demanding the impeachment of the governor. But for New York's anti-grubbing law there would be an excellent chance for the lawmakers to start some betting on the chances of a senator resigning before the governor is impeached, or the governor being impeached before the senator resigns.

Optimism

Johnstown Democrat: President Wilson has been at the helm for almost a full month and next Monday a democratic congress begins a revision downward of what Mr. Taft thought the "best" tariff law ever written. And here is Charles M. Schwab's commentary on the situation of today: "I am naturally optimistic, but I have never felt so thoroughly optimistic as I do today. Business is extremely prosperous and I have every hope of a good year. The plants have plenty of orders and conditions in trade are entirely satisfactory. I am more than pleased with the outlook. The sun of optimism seems everywhere to prevail."

Parcels Post

Worcester Post: It is another stroke of common sense from this administration when Postmaster General Baileys decides the money that could be collected in case ordinary stamps are used on parcel-post packages. Now the special delivery stamp package should be done away with and the rate of such packages reduced. But these are matters for legislation.

Commission-Governed Cities

Lawrence Eagle: Generally speaking, the present character of officials in commission government cities is very much less than that of the other forms. This is because the electors are beginning to see that they are responsible, in the last analysis, and not the form of government, for the character of public officials selected. At most, a law can make it easy and feasible to select competent men. It cannot of itself take the place of the power and duty of selection, which rests always on the voters. It is always a mistake to rest on the hands of the electors themselves.

Jolly Tars

Brackton Times: Secretary of the Navy Daniels plan to make the lot of the enlisted men more pleasant may or may not materially affect the number of desertions, but his purpose at least is commendable. According to a recent announcement, the Atlantic fleet is to be made up of hard drills. It will be broken, Mediterranean cruises alternating with the regular drill cruises in the West Indies. In addition, the new program includes 30 days' leave each year for the time as well as the officers, surely a liberal concession and one that will be appreciated. It seems the new naval department, whatever mistaken policies it may adopt regarding the increase or decrease of naval strength, intends to make the most of such opportunities as it may find to improve without endangering the organization. Perhaps, in time, life on a battleship will be almost as fascinating as the enlistment poster pictures indicate.

CHELMSFORD

Mrs. Charles Mullen, formerly of Chelmsford, now residing in Lowell, spent a few days in town recently visiting old friends and relatives.

Gerard Kennedy caught eight fish, weighing considerable over 15 pounds. Each night men are out with torches and spears catching large strings.

The Progressive Homestead Whist club held its regular gathering at the home of Mr. Enlie E. Fainston, who resides on Warren avenue.

Mr. Edgar Parkhurst of the Boston road has started to burn the dead grass off his land in the rear of his residence. Mr. Parkhurst generally does this at night, making the several acres of land look very beautiful, reddening the sky and attracting notice for miles around.

The Chelmsford grange held its regular meeting Thursday evening at the Odd Fellows hall. After the business meeting the fourth degree was conferred on the following: Walter S. Holder, master; Walter E. Vickery, overseer; Miss Eliza Spaulding, lecturer; Nathan Lapham, steward; Fritz Pearson, assistant steward; Isaac J. Stewart, chaplain; Frank J. Spaulding, treasurer; Harlan E. Knowlton, secretary; Aubrey E. Chadbourne, gatekeeper; Mary A. Holder, cress; Lena Tucker, pomona; Ella M. Davis, flora, and Carrie M. Dupre, lady assistant steward. A large attendance was had from the surrounding towns. A bountiful spread was provided by the following: Mr. and Mrs. George W. Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Russell, Herbert C. Sweetser and Mabel Hatch. The officers were inspected by Deputy Norman L. Peavey of the Massachusetts state grange, residing in Dracut.

Connie Mack's contenders are putting up a great exhibition of how the national game could be played in their pen-and-ink contests with the Phillies. They won their third straight game Sunday and outplayed the Nationals in every department of the game. Pennock, the ex-schoolboy pitcher, held the Phillies helplessly.

Dunkel F. Clancy is looking over Salem, as well as Manchester, for his search for a paying berth for his New England league franchise. He was in the former city the other day, but as he was not accompanied by his partner, Sherman M. Marshall, there was nothing definite decided upon. The Bridge at grounds is the only available place where a club could play its games and these grounds are not in very good repair as well as being rather restricted in size. Salem is keen for a ball club but if Clancy makes a club play there he will be the first man who ever took a dollar out of the town for any kind of sport.

Old Christy Mathewson is working mighty hard to get down into shape these days. He pitched a full game on Monday against the Birmingham team, was on the mound for nine innings Thursday in the game with Knoxville and again started to twist yesterday against the Norfolk batters. Some strenuous work even for the old war horse! The giants have won fifteen straight games on their southern trip.

The local management has had so many calls for season ticket books that it has taken the matter under serious consideration. The price, however, will not be any cheaper for the purchasers, the only saving that will accrue from their purchase being that of time. With the gateway jammed it is hard work to procure a ticket when a large crowd is in attendance at Spaulding park but the fan with a season book of tickets will be saved the trouble of waiting in line.

Walter Fox, the Centralville ball-tossing, will wear a New London uniform again this year. Fox's work behind the bat has steadily improved until he is regarded as one of the best batsmen in the Connecticut State league. Fox previously played with several of the local amateur teams in the city.

ON VISIT TO DAUGHTERS

Assinippi

NORWELL, April 5.—It has developed that D. H. Ainsworth, the divorced husband of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, now under indictment for the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, has visited the Eaton home here within a few months. For several days the police have been trying to determine when Mr. Ainsworth was last at or near the Eaton home, and the fact that a strange man was seen coming away from there Sunday night lent color to the belief that Mr. Ainsworth had been there. Descriptions of the stranger seen on that occasion do not tally, however, with Mr. Ainsworth's appearance.

Neighbors of the Eatons stated last night, however, that Mr. Ainsworth had actually been seen in the neighborhood within the last few months, one woman saying that he told her he was there to visit his daughters. Francis J. Geogan said last night that he would have a conference with William A. Morse, senior counsel for Mrs. Eaton, on Monday, when they would discuss the question of filing objections to the indictment found against her.

The counsel for Mrs. Eaton are planning a line of defense, he said, but he could give no hint as to its nature. It is impossible for the district attorney to examine Mrs. Eaton on the question of sanity, he added without a writ authorizing him to do so from Justice Alken of the Superior Court.

A thorough investigation of the stories in Norwell, Scituate and Littleton Harbor was made yesterday with a view to tracing sales of poison of any sort to members of the Eaton family but without result. The will of Admiral Eaton will not be filed for some time, according to Judge George W. Kelley of Rockland, who explained that the inventory of the estate must be completed first.

Mrs. June Ainsworth Keyes and Miss Dorothy Ainsworth, daughters of Mrs. Eaton, remained at home all day, and there were no visitors at the Eaton home.

Roberts Says That Bride

BOSTON, April 5.—John H. Roberts of 215 Dexter avenue, Watertown, husband of Mrs. Violet Roberts, the 21-year-old bride who was sentenced to the Sherborn prison yesterday morning by Judge Wentworth of the Somerville court on the charge of larceny, said last night that he did not know his wife had been arrested, although she disappeared Thursday from home.

Mr. Roberts, in reference to the reports that his wife has two husbands living, said, "I do not know if that is true, but if it is and if she is divorced from him, why I will take care of my wife, but if she is not I will have nothing to do with her."

My wife has acted strangely of late," he said. "She disappeared shortly after our marriage, March 3, and did not return until last Saturday night. She said, the day she left me, 'I want all the money you can give me, and if I don't have it I will drown myself in the Charles river.'"

Smoke Inspector Riley continues to report to Mayor O'Donnell on his progress in the work of correcting the smoke nuisance in Lowell. Mr. Riley finds that the manufacturers, as a whole, are willing and anxious to cooperate with him in the work and that most of the mills have installed devices for smoke elimination. He says that the Massachusetts Plush company has installed what is known as a steam jet and it promises fine results. It is the invention of the company's engineer, Mr. H. W. Yeomans. "I expect to see other engineers pattern after this invention," said Mr. Riley, "because I think it is the best thing in the market today. I am sure it is the best thing that I have seen."

According to McGraw, Rucker is the greatest southpaw pitcher in the business. In talking about Rucker, McGraw said: "He has everything. With a strong team behind him Nap would head the list of winning twirlers. He has an arm of steel, an ice-

Opera House
With today's performances of "The Confession" at the Opera House, the Longman Players will bring their engagement here to a close and eight weeks of splendid stock performances will pass into history. For the remainder of the season the Opera House will play a number of high class productions, among the number being "Ready Money," the Boston Opera House Stars, "The Country Boy" with the original company, "Baby Mine" and several others to be announced later.

BOSTON OPERA CO.
Selected by the great Mme. Melba as the one prima donna soprano fitted to be her successor, Mme. Evelyn Scotney, the sensational coloratura soprano who will be one of the stars of the Boston Opera Company at the Opera House on Thursday evening, April 10, now bids fair to exceed the estimate placed upon her by Melba, and to become instead the real successor of Adeline Patti. Already the metropolitan critics have declared Mme. Scotney the equal of Mme. Luisa Tetrazzini, and Frederick Johns cool head, excellent control, and his elusive breaks are the envy of all other hurlers. If Brooklyn were willing to part with his services I would gladly pay a small fortune to have him on my club." During the past three years Rucker has twirled great ball for the Brooklyn team, but has been unfortunate in losing a number of games by one run, due to some error or a bad break of luck at a critical moment of a game.

of the Boston American has stated that her role is better. True, Mme. Scotney is not the finished artist that Mme. Tetrazzini is, but she is still very young, both in age and in experience. Her voice, however, has reached the stage where it is comparable to that of no other grand opera singer, with the possible exception of Mme. Tetrazzini.

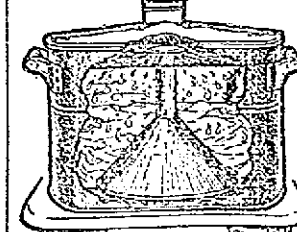

Mme. Scotney is an Australian girl, and since being brought to this country a few years ago by Mme. Melba herself, has been called the Australian nightingale. This title is most appropriate for her voice runs and trills are strikingly similar to those of that bird, and as distinctive to her singing as is the note-like quality which has helped make Mme. Tetrazzini famous.

Most coloratura sopranos, including Tetrazzini, feel it the greatest possible accomplishment to sustain a pure, ringing "F" in altissimo. Mme. Scotney is able to easily negotiate a full tone and a half higher, in one number, the "Roll Song" from "Lakme," singing "F" sharp in altissimo seven times. She sings it as easily as a bird and produces a tone quite as pure and sweet. Scotney will be heard in the grand opera "Martha" as Lady Harriet, in which Patti won so much of her fame. It is possible that Scotney will also

BASE BALL GAME PLAYED
Howe School Lost to Wilmington

The Howe school baseball team of Billerica opened its season at Wilmington, with the Wilmington High school team, yesterday. The game resulted in a victory for Wilmington. Both teams worked hard for the game. The Howe school boys had the game won to the start, but their over-evidence and lack of experience caused them to go to pieces. The present time is the first real baseball game the school has ever had. Before the end of the season they will likely be heard from, as Leslie Ball, an old Lowell High and Dartmouth college athlete is coaching the team.

The Howe school plays the Mitchell school at Mitchell's next Wednesday at 3 p.m. The score:
W. H. S. 13 0 0 2 1 1—5
M. H. S. 0 3 1 0 0 0—5
Summary: Two-base hits—Mitchell, Hoban, Hunter. Three-base hit—W. Lyons. Stolen bases—F. Lyons, Turner, Manney, Hoban 2, Walter. Sacrifice hit—F. Lyons. Base on balls—Off. Walter 2, Off. Cook 5. Struck out—by Walter 5, by Cook 11. Umpire—Dell.

CHINESE BOY SEERS SEAT
William Moy Ding Trying Hard For Place in English High Crews, and Looks Promising

BOSTON, April 5.—One of the most likely looking candidates for a place in either the first or second Boston English High school crews this spring is William Moy Ding, a native-born Chinaman, who resides with his parents at 19 Essex street.

He is the first Chinese boy who ever has reported for a place in one of the crews rowing under the auspices of the B. E. H. S. Rowing club, under R. A. A., and according to Coach Pat Manning his chances of making good are considered bright. Capt. Grobe is enthusiastic over Moy Ding, and states that if the other candidates work as hard and as earnestly as he does his school would easily win the championship.

Since the mad scene from "Lucia di Lammermoor" as a concert number, following the condensed version in costume of "Faust," which occupies the first part of the evening.

Kelley's
One of the pets of the Parisian music hall stage is Mlle. Louise Legai, who with M. Jules Lebarbe and Mlle. Nelly, will be the sensational feature of the bill at the B. E. H. S. Rowing club, next week. Mlle. Legai brings forward her latest dance cycle, called "Les Dances d'Amour." There are five of these, and they cover a wide range. The music is "Amour d'Amour" danced by Legai. The music for this is the old "La Carmagnole," a favorite of King Louis XV. This will be followed by "Amour d'Amour," by M. Lebarbe and Mlle. Nelly. His name indicates what it is, the savage jungle of the gamin of Paris for his loved woman. "Amour d'Amour" or "Jack in the Box" will be danced by Mlle. Legai and "Amour d'Amour" is the contribution of Lebarbe and Mlle. Nelly. The final dance is the realistic "Amour d'Amour," which will be danced by Legai, Lebarbe and Mlle. Nelly. This will prove to be the distinctive hit of the performance. Special music has been composed for the dances by the composer of this magnificent, luxurious, La Vestruge is the musical director. James Kelley and Annie Pollock will please with the accompanying comedy, "The Vaudeville." It concludes with the riotous scene in which a burlesque prize fight occurs. The Four Melodious Chaps, who sing and play pianos, will surely give a splendid effect. The music is of the cut-and-dried order, but it always bristles with something suggestive of the latest in song and repartee.

Academy of Music
Starting Monday, April 7, the Augusta Perry Co. opens a two weeks' engagement at the Academy of Music with a daily matinee and also change of play daily. The opening play, Howard Hall's great success, "A Soldier of the Empire," tells a very pretty story with plenty of good comedy and strong dramatic situations. Miss Perry and Walter Downing will be seen in the leading roles ably assisted by Charles Stevens, the talented actor, so well known to our local theatregoers and the full strength of the Perry company. Popular prices will prevail. Matinee

Merrimack Square Theatre
What bids fair to be one of the most novel and entertaining offerings which The Temple Players have appeared in will be presented in the coming weeks program under the title of "Miss Lillian's School" at the Merrimack square theatre. Ross Maurer will be seen in the title role, which is a guarantee that the role will be capably handled. The other members of the company will all be seen to advantage.

"The Nightingale," the piece in which Grace Young & Co. will soon, with no doubt, make a departure from the usual every day sketch. It is a story of life behind the scenes and the stage setting or rather absence of one, gives it just that touch which it needs. The roles will be capably handled.

Elmer Dimes, the symphonic artist, will be heard in some of his latest selections, while Geo. Davis is here again and will sing a brace of new songs. Hap Handy & Co. novelty soap bubblers, offering a surprising feature on the bill, presenting an offering entirely away from anything yet seen here, and the pictures for the first three days have as the feature a two-act subject called "Heroes, One and All."

A benefit performance for the flood sufferers will be given on Wednesday. Watch daily papers for further announcements.

For the Sunday concert to be given tomorrow a specially arranged program of vaudeville and photo-plays will be given.

The Playhouse
"The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," a four-act drama, by Arthur Wing Pinero, which is to be produced by The Drama Players at The Playhouse next week, ranks with some of the greatest successes of seasons. In it such well known actresses as Olea Nethersole, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Virginia Harcourt, Mrs. Fiske and Lucie Carter have seen it and all found in it one of the very best vehicles in which to display their exceptional art as entertainers of high-class offerings. The piece was revived the past season by Mrs. Carter at the 60th street theatre, New York, and won unstinted applause and recognition from the theatre-going public of the

DOHAN AND GALLANT IN DRAW

Lightweights Gave Fast Exhibition at Lowell A. C.—Morgan and
Cooper Also in Draw

Through twelve rounds of furious slugging that has ever been produced at the local club. The semi-final was a titting curtain raiser to the main affair. Young Morgan of Manchester and Johnny Cooper of Boston were the principals in this bout. Each showed that he could give and take punishment, although the Manchester boy received less of the punches that were flying around loose than did Cooper. In fact Cooper's left eye was a bit of color at the conclusion of the go, while Morgan appeared as fresh as before the first tap of the gong. With-out a doubt if the Manchester boy had not allowed his opponent to do the bulk of the leading the decision would not have been a draw for at all times was he the other boy's master although the shade was not so pronounced that a draw decision was impossible. These two 115 pounders will appear in the same sketch at next week's show.

The first two preliminaries proved rather short. In the first event of the evening Finney Doyle started after a boy who claimed Canada as his home. After Finney had put over a few left jabs to his face Billy Read, as he dubbed himself, raised his right hand as a signal that he had gotten sufficient fighting for the night. The second prelim stopped almost as suddenly. Dick O'Brien of Woburn met Johnny Fitzgerald of South Boston in this event. It is safe to say that the South Boston boy is no relative of Boston's scrappy mayor. Both started in to swap haymakers in the first round, but after a few punches had found their way to Fitzgerald's chin he laid himself right down on the boards and Martin Flaherty did not take the bother to count him out. An extra prelim was staged on account of the first two fates and proved a fast and interesting bout. Although outwitted by Kid Williams of Lawrence, Kid Hamilton, a local boy, stayed right along with him and showed more ring knowledge than his opponent. Both were strong at the bell. Williams was declared the winner.

For the main bout next week, Matchmaker Gardner has secured two very clever boys, namely, Philby McGovern, of Brooklyn and Tommy Flanagan, of Cambridge. The staging of the play, the dressing of its characters and the various appointments necessary for its successful presentation will not be found wanting. In the character of "Paula Tanqueray," the leading one of the cast, Miss Bertha Mann will find one of her greatest opportunities to display her vaudeville talent, while Arthur Snythe and the other members of the cast will be seen to equal advantage. The prices for next week have been revised. See today's advertisement. First performance Monday night. Secure your tickets in advance.

PRIEST SAVES ALTAR BOY MR. ALBERT L. KING

Beats Out Blaze With His Prominent Resident of Hands—Badly Burned Tewksbury Dead

MALDEN, April 5.—While celebrating mass at the Sacred Heart Church yesterday Rev. Fr. George P. O'Connor was painfully burned about the hands in extinguishing the blazing candles of an altar boy after it had caught fire from a lighted candle. The altar boy, John Crowley of Green St., had his hair badly singed, his hands blistered and his garments were burned.

The affair occurred while Fr. O'Connor was administering communion and there was a large congregation in the church. When the altar boy's surplice and candles caught fire Fr. O'Connor quickly beat out the flames and his right hand was burned in doing so. Fr. O'Connor continued the mass and the pastor, Rev. Fr. J. J. Fally, completed the administering of communion.

If You Doctored 19 Years For RHEUMATISM

And eventually found something that drove it out of your system, would you tell everybody you could about it, or would you keep the secret to yourself? I think you should tell, and if you write and tell me, I will tell you what drove it from me at a cost of less than $100. Please bear in mind I have no prepared medicine of any kind to sell, so you need not be backward in sending for information. I want to help you, and will give you all the information necessary. I can never forget how I suffered from Rheumatism and how I was for a long time, and now—no limp, pain or fear—all signs of it are gone. That is why I am not asking you to send money for something you will know nothing about, as I realize how many there are who ask a lot and give nothing. Lucius Jackson, April 1, 1912.

Would Give School Regiments Free Use of the Armory

Before the committee on ways and means at the state house, yesterday, Adj. Gen. Gardner W. Pearson urged the passage of his bill, reported by the military affairs committee, to authorize the adjutant general to grant free use of state armories for school military companies. The bill was supported by Representative John H. McLaughlin, chairman of the committee, and by Representative William J. Leslie, majority leader.

Had Hot Debate

About as "hot" a session as the house has seen in many months occurred yesterday during debate on a bill to extend for 10 months the time within which the Boston & Eastern Electric Railway Company must file its $400,000 construction bond. No vote was reached.

Hot vocal combat occurred between Lonsberry of Boston, who opposed the bill, and Washburn of Worcester, who spoke for it. Gillin of Boston got into the controversy and was opposed by E. L. McGrath of Boston, who fought for restrictive amendment offered by Mr. Lonsberry when the house adjourned for the day. The discussion will be resumed next Monday.

Speaker Channing was forced to hammer away furiously with his gavel many times during yesterday's debate to preserve outward order and to keep representatives from indulging in personalities.

The bill was first opposed by Barnes of Mansfield, who said the company has more than $2,000,000 on deposit in this city which it hopes to use in paying back damages. Barnes of Mansfield was in favor, saying that the North Shore needs better transportation facilities.

Mr. Lonsberry offered an amendment to make the time extension conditional on an agreement by the company not to sell or transfer its charter without the consent of the legislature. Mr. Washburn declared that Mr. Lonsberry might have offered such an amendment to better advantage when the Grand Trunk bill was before the legislature.

The house committee on rules yesterday reported unfavorably on the Barnes order requesting the railroad commissioners to report on the financial condition of the Boston & Eastern, because the chairman of the commission had given the committee all the information the commission had.

One Day Rest in Seven

The bill to provide for one day of rest in seven, except in certain specified employments, after some debate was passed to be engrossed on a voice vote.

Without debate or division the house passed to be engrossed a bill providing for direct nomination in primaries of candidates for United States senator and for an expression of preference by the voters.

A bill reported from the judiciary committee permitting peaceful persuasion was ordered to a third reading after being amended by Mr. Lonsberry to provide that the law shall not apply except to those guilty of willful violation of the law.

DUTIES OF ODD FELLOWS

Subject of Talk by F. G. Humphries

AT MEETING AND SMOKE TALK OF MERRIMACK VALLEY LODGE

Large Attendance Present and All Greatly Appreciated and Commended Mr. Humphries' Address

The members of Merrimack Valley lodge, I. O. O. F., M. U. held a very large, attended and interesting meeting and smoke talk last evening in the Odd Fellows building. Considerable business of importance was transacted and numerous applications for membership were received during the business session.

Of the social hour which followed the feature was an address by Mr. Frederick G. Humphries, of Lowell, Western lodge on "Our Duties and Responsibilities as Odd Fellows."

Among other things Mr. Humphries said:

"We come together in this lodge, without regard to religion, without regard to wealth, race, the high, the low, the rich and the poor, meet together. The reward that a man meets depends upon what he is, and not upon what his father was, or how much he had. And, my brothers, we meet in this lodge for the great idea of equality, which lies at the foundation of our government. And as we get together, members of different churches, members of different parties, as we come together and meet in the lodge room under a common footing, we are taught that charity should obtain between those who have a common purpose, but different as honest men and different as opinion."

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Manchester Unity, including in all its branches the order of Odd Fellows, is the greatest and richest of all the great fraternal orders. Odd Fellowship stands for all that is best in the great world of fraternity. It has been asked, what is there in Odd Fellowship that has caused it to rise above all other orders in membership, wealth and the amount of philanthropic work performed? What is the charm of Odd Fellowship that has drawn to its ranks men of every walk of life? What is it that has caused Odd Fellowship to rise above the petty strifes of creed and party? What is it that has given this grand old fraternity of ours such strength in the past, and such prominence in the world today?

"The answer is, that true Odd Fellowship is the crystallization of all that is best in human nature."

"We are taught that it is our duty to exemplify the principles of friendship, love and truth, in our daily life; to visit the homes of our brothers in sickness and distress; to care for the widow and orphan; to make no one a brother who having a father and mother, is not a good son; who, having a wife, is not a good husband, and who, having children, is not a good father."

"When you work in the interests of Odd Fellowship you do the most practical kind of missionary work. When you persuade a man to enlist under our banner, you benefit that man morally, mentally, socially and financially. You benefit those depending on him and the community at large."

"We are banded together, not for selfishness, but for our mutual welfare, to help the weak, to assist the needy, to extend the friendship and practice of fraternity; and it is only in the exercise of these virtues that the lodge meeting is a success."

"Each member should be proud of his lodge. We must stand for, and practice, the principles of our order, that we may receive the consideration of every thoughtful man and woman. No person will take an interest in anything of which they stand in doubt. If we believe that we have the best, frankest and the most beneficial order on earth let us show by our works and actions the faith that is in us."

"The financial system of the Manchester Unity has been commended by the best authorities of the world as being the soundest of all the systems adopted by such orders."

"No one need be ashamed to ask a friend to join our order. It counts among its members, honorary and financial, the higher and wealthier classes of nearly every country, yet it is the order 'par excellence' for the working man. Such is its claim and aim. From the migratory habits of workmen, caused by changes in localities of trade or other cause, it is best adapted for cosmopolitan membership in every quarter of the globe."

"Let the friendship of Odd Fellowship be friendship with all men. To have friends we must be friendly."

"From a moral standpoint, let us all arrange our lives that we will be a credit to ourselves and an honor to our order. In conclusion, let me ask you to remember the teachings of the lodge rule, 'Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you.' Following this precept will make us better men, better citizens and better members of society."

Portrait Allen Land Bill

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The Japanese government has lodged formal protest with the state department against the proposed enactment by California of what it considers anti-Japanese legislation, the measure prohibiting the alien ownership of land in California.

ADJUTANT GENERAL PEARSON

The bill to prohibit the sale of candy by children under 16 years of age, after being amended, was rejected. By a vote of 22 to 45 the house refused to adopt a motion of Fellows of Hingham to substitute for an adverse report a bill providing that chiefs, deputy and assistant chiefs and boards of engineers of fire departments shall be placed under civil service.

The bill to permit supplemental listing of voters in Boston by the officials in charge of police stations was ordered to a third reading, without division.

Committee Reports

These committee reports were read: Ways and means: Ought not to pass on resolution to provide for a report on the condition and education of persons with seriously defective vision; ought to pass on bill appropriating $30,000 for the expenses of transporting Massachusetts veterans to Gettysburg for the celebration of the anniversary of the battle.

Public service: Ought not to pass on bill providing for pensioning of officers of the prison commission.

Street railway: Leave to withdraw on bills to provide for public ownership of street railway companies; leave to withdraw on bill to regulate the fares of street railway companies for the transportation of students.

Public health: Leave to withdraw on bill to regulate the sale of food and drink; leave to withdraw on bill to provide for the regulation of the lower courts in Suffolk county.

Encounter of Two Vassar College Chicks Causes Pile Among Several Hundred Students

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 5.—Several hundred students in Vassar college here today were detained yesterday when a quarrel between two chicks in the college kitchen over a chicken should pick a chicken, developed into a duel with carving knives, and one of them was seriously cut.

As the noise of the encounter penetrated the young women's quarters, they ran screaming from the building. Bratleigh MacVeagh, 22 years old, the younger of the combatants, was taken to a hospital. Augustus Brennan was arrested and held in $1000.

MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY

Colombian Minister Sends Letter to U. S. Government, Expressing Sorrow for Flood Sufferers

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Regardless of existing differences on many important phases of the Panama problem, the people of Colombia have sent a message of sympathy to the United States government in connection with the flood sufferers in the west. "I feel," says the Colombian minister, "the deepest sympathy for the suffering and people's sorrow for the great and deplorable disasters that have taken place in the territory of several states of the American Union."

Democrat Leaders at Capital

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Much speculation was caused today by the presence in Washington of H. S. Cummings of Connecticut, vice chairman of the democratic national committee together with George W. Greene of Rhode Island, Edward D. Wood of Michigan, Col. Robert Ewing of Louisiana and Judge Marshall Wade of Iowa, members of the national committee. All of them protested they were here on personal business, although Mr. Cummings acknowledged he had come from Connecticut to urge the candidacy of Thomas F. Noone of his state for a judicial appointment in the district of Columbia. The others insisted that they were merely on regular business.

The Arbitration Board

NEW YORK, April 5.—Judge Chambers, chairman of the arbitration board hearing the firemen's demands against the eastern railroads, announced today that the Toledo, St. Louis & Western road cannot withdraw from the proceedings. It had signed the agreement to arbitrate and must abide by the findings. He ruled, notwithstanding its desire to settle individually with its firemen. Both sides in the controversy summed up today. The board's decision will be announced on April 23.

$150,000 Gift to Harvard

BOSTON, April 5.—Harvard is in receipt of another large bequest to serve with the numerous other gifts of the last few years in the development of the college. At the meeting of the Harvard corporation this week, the treasurer announced a bequest of $150,000 from the estate of Mrs. Sarah A. Hatchett.

This gift is unique in that no special disposal of it is named. It is to be held as a special fund under the donor's name, and the income is to be used for the general purposes of the college. A bequest of such a nature, not bound down to any particular use, is especially welcome to Harvard under the present pressure of high maintenance expenses.

Blockade of Seaport

CETTINE, Montenegro, April 5.—The blockade of the Montenegrin seaport of Antivari was definitely established today when eight foreign warships representing the European powers formed a semi-circular bar before the harbor. The fleet is composed of three Austrian, two Italian, one British, one German and one French warship.

Garment Workers of 2 Others Fatally Injured Maine Legislature Continues Hearing

Providence Return at Pittsburgh

PROVIDENCE, April 5.—Strikers among the garment workers yesterday were making terms with their employers, and to some extent, ignoring the I. W. W. and other labor organizations as well. The master tailors said last night that many of the strikers are returning to work, some at advanced pay.

At the I. W. W. strike headquarters there was a smaller gathering yesterday, but the leaders say they are satisfied with the situation. They admitted that some tailors have gone back, chiefly to the department stores which they asserted had given all the increase in pay demanded.

The shops to which the workers are returning have reinstated their employees on verbal agreements. The employees understand and have agreed that the employer shall not be requested to recognize the I. W. W. in any way, that he shall not be asked to sign any agreement prepared by the I. W. W. or transact any business through the agents of that body. The men returned, expressing themselves as willing to renounce the I. W. W.

SIX PIRATES CAPTURED Chinese Soldiers in a Sharp Encounter

HONG KONG, China, April 5.—In a sharp encounter with a band of pirates on the West river today a force of Chinese soldiers and customs officers shot one and captured six pirates. The remainder of the band fled. An immense quantity of loot was recovered.

AUGUSTA, Me., April 5.—The case of Sheriff John Ballou of Bath having been disposed of late last night by his removal from office, the weary members of the Maine legislature today were expected to try Lewis W. Moulton, sheriff of Cumberland county, another of the county officials charged with malfeasance in office for alleged failure or neglect to enforce the prohibitory liquor law. The plan was for the session to begin at 9:30 a. m. and continue until night, an unusual proceeding for a Saturday session of the legislature. This is the 11th week of the session, the longest held for years, and the members assert they are anxious to return to their homes.

Atty.-Gen. Wilton of Portland and Benjamin F. Claves of Biddeford represent the prosecution while the interests of Sheriff Ballou are represented by the hands of Former Attorney General F. J. Tanguay of Waterville, W. H. Gulliver and Irving Vernon of Portland.

Post Inside On Protection

BOSTON, April 5.—That Gov. Foss may be getting a bit nervous, as a New England manufacturer, over the tariff program of the democratic administration in Washington, appears in an interview he gave today, in which he declared with emphasis: "I want it understood that I am not and never was a free trader. I am a protectionist."

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The Passaconaway Tribe, No. 32, held a council fire in their wigwam in Odd Fellows temple last night. The meeting was well attended and several interesting chiefs were present. Thomas H. Sellers occupied the stump.

Post 155, G. A. R.

A well attended meeting of Post 155, G. A. R., was held the other evening and reports were read by the committee who are arranging the celebration to be held on April 16.

Admiral Farragut Camp, No. 75, S. of V.

The regular meeting of the Admiral Farragut Camp, No. 75, S. of V. held last night was well attended and three applicants were passed for membership. The century mark in membership is expected to be passed soon.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. John P. McCarren of this city and Miss Elizabeth E. Doyle, daughter of Mrs. John Doyle of 2 Russell avenue, Nashua, were married Thursday at St. Patrick's church, Nashua, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Matthew Creamer. The witnesses were a sister of the bride, Miss Agnes Doyle, and Mr. Robert McCarren of this city. At 11 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. McCarren and their attendants left by auto, followed by six other machines, for Lowell, where a reception was given by Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill friends at the home of the bridegroom, 25 Mill street. The couple will live in New York for the present.

SINGS WAY OUT OF JAIL

Nathan Kopas, a New York Truckman, Wins Release From a Magistrate

NEW YORK, April 5.—A tenor solo sung in a prison cell yesterday won for Nathan Kopas, a truck driver, his liberty after being arrested for violating the city's traffic rules. The song, an operatic air, was being so well sung that Magistrate Appleton, into whose courtroom the melody floated, halted the trial of cases until the singer had finished. He then directed that Kopas be brought before him.

"I would like to sing all the time," said Kopas, "if I could sing all day on the wagon and it always makes me happy. I didn't mean to sing in prison, but I felt downhearted and I thought if I could sing a little I would feel more cheerful."

Kopas is 18 years old. In discharging him the court advised him to try to earn his living by singing.

Rhode Island Senate Passes Bill Prohibiting Display of Their Banners in Street Parades

PROVIDENCE, April 5.—A bill prohibiting the carrying of flags in street parades and prohibiting particularly the display of Industrial Workers of the World banners was passed by the senate yesterday. Senator Munroe, who introduced the bill, discussed incidents of the Lawrence strike, criticizing the Industrial Workers of the World.

Military Horse Show

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Plans for the third annual military horse show at Fort Myer, Va., were announced today and the program is to include a long list of events for three days, beginning April 23. The chief object of the show, it is announced, will be to determine whether the thoroughbred or the ordinary "scrub" horse is better suited "temperamentally" to the needs of the military service.

The choicest of the cavalry horses in the central and eastern departments, recently given to the army by lending horse shows, are to be entered in the contest. The private mounts of the officers of both the cavalry and artillery branches of the service, many of which have won ribbons in civilian horse shows, will vie for further honors with the well trained or plebeian mounts of the common soldiers. An elaborate plan of tests has been arranged.

Coronation of King Constantine

ATHENS, Greece, April 5.—The coronation of King Constantine of Greece will not take place before next year.

To Keep the Face Fresh, Clear, Youthful

(National Hygienic Review)

More important than the cosmetic care of the complexion is its physical care. To keep the face clean, fresh, youthful, there's nothing better than common sense. It absorbs the solid or added particles which cause unwholesomeness to the complexion. What's the difference? By all means, acquire the knowledge and use it. It's so easy to get out of the way of the drug store's apply at night like cold cream and wash it off next morning. Then face to face with the skin, the skin coming off so gradually, no one suspects you're using anything. When in a week or two the alluringly pure complexion is gone, you're fully in view—well you won't want or need a make-up complexion after that. It must be apparent that this process of skin care is a necessity. For obstinate wrinkles, a face bath made by dissolving an ounce of Fuller's Earth in a half pint of water, surpasses massage cream and everything else for results.
